

ATLANTIC PLANE FAILS TO MAKE LAND

Federal By-election Here Fixed For December 6

Writ Issued At Ottawa To Fill Seat In Commons

Hon. J. D. MacLean, Former Premier, Mentioned as Probable Liberal Choice to Recapture Victoria Riding; Both Parties Plan Early Conventions to Select Nominees.

December 6 was definitely fixed to-day as the date of the Federal by-election in Victoria, necessitated by the resignation of Premier Tolmie from the House of Commons. Nominations will be held a week earlier. A writ ordering the poll is being issued at Ottawa to-day.

With the date of the election announced, both political parties here are preparing to nominate candidates and launch the campaign in earnest.

MACLEAN MENTIONED
Most prominent among those mentioned as the possible choice of the Liberal Party in the determined effort to recapture the Victoria seat is Hon. J. D. MacLean, former Premier of British Columbia. Strong pressure will be brought upon Dr. MacLean to allow his name to go before the Liberal convention when it is called shortly.

Other prominent Liberals mentioned for the nomination are William Ivel, A. D. Macfarlane and J. B. Clearhouse. Plans for the Liberal nominating convention will be drafted by heads of the Liberal Association without delay and the campaign will be well under way shortly.

CONSERVATIVES PREPARE
Conservative Association officers already have made preliminary arrangements for their party's convention, the date of which will be fixed in the next few days. Chief among Conservatives mentioned as probable nominees are Lindley Crease, K.C., and P. C. Elliott, president of the Conservative Association. Major Gus Lyons, former member of the Legislature, also is being boomed by his friends for the nomination.

Should Dr. MacLean consent to run in Victoria, his retirement from provincial politics will leave the Liberal Party with the task of choosing a new leader to succeed the former Premier. T. D. Pattullo, of the former Liberal government, is being mentioned for the leadership, a matter which probably will come first before the caucus of Liberal members of the Legislature when the House opens some time in January. Later it is expected a general convention of the party will appoint a permanent leader, probably endorsing the choice of the elected members.

$1,000 REWARD FOLLOWS DEATH

Effort Made to Bring to Trial Persons Who Killed K. Azoff in Vancouver

Vancouver, Oct. 18.—Reward of $1,000 has been offered "for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the death of Kreem (Pete) Azoff," Russian milkworker of Ocean Falls, whose body was found in the bush near Esquimalt on September 22 by the brother-in-law of the deceased, Vic Horsford, Georgia Street, East, Vancouver.

The money has been posted with the Superintendent of Provincial police at Victoria and will be payable for a period of four months from to-day.

Azoff disappeared from his room in the Empress Hotel on September 5 and was found dead seventeen days later.

The inquest revealed he was in possession of a ring and watch, none of which were found on the body.

Detectives believed he was murdered in Vancouver, robbed and the body taken to the lonely Esquimalt road and dragged into the bush by his feet.

ECKENER PLANS FOUR BIG DIRIGIBLES FOR ATLANTIC

New York, Oct. 18.—Dr. Hugo Eckener, builder and commander, pilot of the transatlantic dirigible Graf Zeppelin, hopes the flight from Friedrichshafen, Germany, to Lakehurst, New Jersey, will interest United States capitalists to the extent of $14,000,000 in a plan he has for regular transatlantic airship service.

He wants to have four ships running on a fifty-hour schedule, with the

WHOLE BLOCK DOWN TOWN TO BE REBUILT

Fort-Broad-Broughton-Douglas Square Involved in Big Building Scheme

Modern Stores Planned to Replace Old Structures on Busy Streets

One of the biggest recent projects of downtown building and improvement is now under way, involving nearly all of the city block bounded by Fort, Broad, Broughton and Douglas Streets, it was learned to-day.

The three-story Weiler building, Douglas and Broughton Streets is the only building in the block not affected. It is a new structure. All the others in the square are old and will be rebuilt.

There are only three owners involved in the block, outside of the Weilers, and it was understood to-day that two of these had agreed to the development and that the third was favorable.

PLAN NEW BUILDING
As a result Percy Fox, architect, is preparing plans for the reconstruction of the city block as a unified building, and as a joint project as far as the owners are concerned.

Just what the structure covering the block will be has not finally been decided yet.

The plans call for modern store fronts all along Fort Street and along Broad to Broughton. The finish of the whole block will be in modern California stucco.

The time to bring the big downtown improvement was inaugurated by Alfred Carmichael, who is handling the Broughton-Broad corner, it is understood.

MAKES FORCED LANDING IN HIS PLANE AT TOKIO

Tokio, Oct. 18.—Baron Ehrenfried Gunther von Huenefeld and two companions, flying to Tokyo from Germany, made a forced landing in a southern suburb of Tokyo to-day after a non-stop flight from Shanghai.

The baron and his co-pilot and mechanic were not hurt although the machine was badly damaged. The airplane had lost their way in a rainstorm.

VANCOUVER IS GIVEN CLEAN RULE PLEDGE

Progressive Government Results From Polling, Says Mayor-elect Malkin

Vancouver, Oct. 18.—"By this victory at the polls, sane, clean, progressive government, backed by law and order, has established itself above the level of inertia and lawlessness," said Mayor-elect W. H. Malkin of Greater Vancouver to-day.

"The people have given an answer to the threat of the underworld. I, personally, do not count. It was the people's fight."

"I want to thank the citizens for the trust and confidence they have shown they have in me. It is my pledge never to betray that trust. And it is my hope never to fall short of the expectations of the people who placed me in office," said Mr. Malkin, who will take office as Mayor of the amalgamated city—Vancouver, Point Grey and South Vancouver, January 1, 1929.

STATEMENT BY TAYLOR
"Well, that's that and there is nothing to do but to bow to the ballots," said Mayor L. D. Taylor, speaking of his defeat. "I have been defeated as the result of the most ruthless vendetta waged against any public man in Vancouver in more than thirty years."

"I have been vilified and my personal character assailed, and there is not a word of truth in the charges made against me."

"I think it is a serious thing such a campaign as was made against me could succeed in a city like Vancouver. My only wish now is for the continued prosperity of the city I love and am proud to have served."

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE STARTS FOR CHAMBER

B. C. Nicholas Stresses Importance of Organization in City; Tells of Its Work

F. McGregor, Organizer, Announces Twelve New Members at Breakfast Meeting

Away to a flying start with the announcement by Fred M. McGregor, chairman of the committee, that he had already secured twelve new members, the membership drive of the Chamber of Commerce opened this morning at a breakfast meeting in the Chamber cafe.

An increase in the roster of the Chamber by fifty is the object set for the campaign, which is being carried out by an intensive canvass of the business district of the city. Some thirty members of the Chamber and Junior Chamber are taking part in the canvass.

B. C. Nicholas addressed the canvassers this morning at breakfast, outlining the record of the Chamber of Commerce and the reasons why business and professional men of Victoria should become members.

"There should not be an unusual stimulus required to attract members to the Chamber," said Mr. Nicholas. "Nevertheless, it is necessary at this time—Victoria is not unique in this respect, however, many other Coast cities having conducted similar campaigns."

ONE LIKE IT
Of the many organizations in the city, none could take the place of the Chamber in scope, variety and activity, said the speaker. It had a place which no other organization could fill.

"If people who are lukewarm and indifferent toward the Chamber could only look over its record, could try to visualize what the city would, do without it, there would be no hesitancy," Mr. Nicholas said.

MACDONALD'S LITTLE PLANE LONG OVERDUE

Machine of British Aviator Who Left Newfoundland Yesterday for England Not Reported at Any Point on Land; When Sighted by Ship Seven Hours and Thirty-nine Minutes After Take-off He Was Far North of Planned Route.

London, Oct. 18.—Last reported far north of his course, Lieut.-Commander H. C. MacDonald, daring British aviator, who yesterday set out from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, in a tiny Gypsy Moth plane on a nonstop solo flight to England, was long overdue this afternoon.

Anxiety for his safety increased as hour after hour went by without his arrival and this worry was in no way decreased by the receipt of first news of his being sighted at sea at 7.30 Eastern standard time (4.30 p.m. yesterday, Victoria time) last night, seven hours and thirty-nine minutes after he had taken off from Harbor Grace.

This news came from the Dutch steamship Hardenburg by way of the liner Leviathan and placed the flier about 840 miles east of Belle Isle, and about 200 miles north of the Great Circle route from Harbor Grace to England. This was on a direct course between Belle Isle and Fastnet, much north of his planned route.

The position of the plane indicated Commander MacDonald up to that point had been making an average of 100 miles an hour. The Hardenburg sailed from Montreal October 11 for Antwerp.

The best available estimates indicate MacDonald's tiny plane should have been able to remain in the air about twenty-four hours. That period elapsed at 11.51 a.m. Eastern Standard Time (to-day 8.15 a.m. Victoria time). There was hope, however, that the plane could have remained in the air longer if weather conditions were favorable, and if the wind was on the plane's tail.

From the time of the hop-off at Harbor Grace yesterday until late to-day there had been not a single word reported from Commander MacDonald or his little plane. Then like a flash of lightning from a dark cloud came the first word of MacDonald in the message from the steamship Hardenburg addressed to the Associated Press.

The message read: "Aeroplane passed steamer Hardenburg Latitude 53.29 North, Longitude 41.30 West, 0630 Greenwich Meridian Time."

AT GOOD SPEED
The message indicated the young aviator was flying well and at a good speed, but there were still more than a thousand miles stretching ahead of him before he could sight the Irish coastline.

This added to the fact that so far as shown he failed to reach Ireland after the lapse of many hours more than the required time, added to the acute anxiety for his safety.

SHIP ON SMALL PLANE'S COURSE SEES NO FLIER
Steamship America, Oct. 18 (By Wireless).—The steamship America all day piled a direct course from Fastnet, Ireland, to Cape Race, Nfld., along which Lieut.-Commander MacDonald had been expected to fly his small plane but no sign of the daring flier was seen although a close lookout was kept.

Captain George Fried kept the ship's course slightly to the north of the regular steamship course in order to follow the supposed route of MacDonald. This afternoon the America was at latitude 51.06 North and longitude 16.51 West, approximately 400 miles west of Fastnet.

A moderate westerly gale was blowing and the sea was rough. There were occasional light rains, but the visibility was good.

LIQUOR GUARDS WAIT FOR FLEET
U.S. Craft Patrol Niagara River on Reports of Rum Invasion From Ontario

Buffalo, N.Y., Oct. 18.—With twenty liquor running boats reported to have left the Ontario shore under cover of a light fog, United States coastguards and customs men patrolled the Niagara River throughout last night to prevent landing of cargoes on this side. All available coastguard patrol boats had been mobilized in the Niagara River to meet the expected invasion, which government men said was the biggest ever attempted in this section.

Lieut. Martin W. Bauman, district coastguard commander, said the liquor fleet had been lined up along the Canadian shore for some time awaiting a heavy fog or an extremely dark night in order to make a dash across the river.

New York, Oct. 18.—C. B. England, a research scientist of the Bell Telephone Laboratories here, says that after extensive experiments he is convinced of the soundness of his theory that the human body has a radio tuning point.

The tuning point of his body, 3.66 metres, he says, was discovered accidentally while he was working on radio oscillators producing very short wavelengths.

Starting at five metres, he worked downward gradually and encountered difficulties when he went below four metres. A search for the cause, he says, disclosed his body was working as a tuned circuit.

BARON VON HUENFELD of Transatlantic flight fame.

Tokio, Oct. 18.—Baron Ehrenfried Gunther von Huenefeld and two companions, flying to Tokyo from Germany, made a forced landing in a southern suburb of Tokyo to-day after a non-stop flight from Shanghai.

The baron and his co-pilot and mechanic were not hurt although the machine was badly damaged. The airplane had lost their way in a rainstorm.

Paris, Oct. 18.—Twenty-five workmen were buried in the ruins of a house under construction at Vincennes to-day. The house collapsed an hour before the men were due to quit work.

Two bodies and four badly injured men were taken from the wreckage, while this afternoon forces of police and firemen were working to save others believed to be alive in the ruins.

Somerville Tattersall's Brienz was third, another half length back in the field of thirteen.

The betting was 100-8; 20-1 and 100-7 against.

The winner, a bay colt, earned consideration as a Derby prospect for next year.

The race, first run in 1866, was worth approximately $16,000.

TANK OF LOST ARCTIC PLANE IS PICKED UP

Metal Object Found in Sea West of Norway Was Part of Amundsen Plane

Copenhagen, Oct. 18.—A fuel tank believed to have belonged to the Focke-Latham plane in which Capt. Roald Amundsen and five companions are presumed to have perished in an attempt to reach survivors of the ill-fated Arctic dirigible Italia has been found.

The motorboat Kelf arrived at Walsundrum with the tank last night, having found it yesterday at latitude 64.52 north, longitude 13.50 east, about 200 miles north of Christiansand, Norway. It was capable of holding 600 litres of fuel, but contained only thirty.

The motorboat is due to-morrow at Trondhjem, where the tank will be examined by experts.

DRIFTED SOUTH
The point where the tank was found is much farther south than other places where parts of the flying boat were picked up.

Capt. H. Riser-Larsen, who participated in the Italia rescue work, said this indicated the plane must have fallen into the water and not on ice, as in the latter case everything would have been smashed.

WRITING FOUND
Oslo, Norway, Oct. 18.—Careful examination of a gasoline tank picked up by the motorboat Kelf and taken to Walsundrum has revealed two lines written in French. The writing, however, is almost illegible because of the action of the sea.

Only the word and figure "Acie—20 XI" can be deciphered. It is believed the word "acie" might stand for the French equivalent for accident, and that the figures might represent the position of the French Latham plane in which Capt. Roald Amundsen and five companions are thought to have perished.

TO VISIT B.C. NEXT YEAR
Vancouver, Oct. 18.—Lord Melchett, formerly Sir Alfred Mond, British financier, will not come to British Columbia on his present visit to this continent. Colonel H. H. Yull of Kailo, representative in British Columbia for the Victoria Syndicate, the Melchett concern, recently interested in British Columbia mining, received a wire from Lord Melchett this morning stating the capitalist would be unable to come here this year, but that he hoped to do so on his next visit.

PLANS GAME LAW CHANGE

Pooly Would Eliminate Police From Administration Recommends Appointment of Board of Experienced Sportsmen

Duncan, Oct. 18.—Representations made by the B.C. Fish and Game Association for the administration of the game laws of the Province by a board of experienced sportsmen have been considered by Hon. R. H. Pooley, Attorney-General, and recommendations along these lines will be made by him to the Government. Mr. Pooley stated yesterday at a complimentary dinner given to him and Premier Tolmie at Duncan last night.

Men who are not members of the provincial police force will be responsible for the carrying out of the laws, Mr. Pooley said. He also favors a policy of encouraging the rearing of game birds by the establishment of game farms throughout the Province.

The Attorney-General's address was in reply to the toast of the Province proposed by H. F. Prevost.

O. T. Smith gave the toast of the Premier, and in reply Dr. Tolmie expressed the hope that the Government would be able to draft an immigration policy that would meet with general approval.

C. H. Dickie, M.P., replied to the toast of the Dominion given by Kenneth Duncan and C. F. Davis, M.P., to that of the Legislature, proposed by A. Peterson.

Mr. Davis said he had already taken up with the Minister of Public Works some of the problems presented by road needs in the Cowichan Lake area. The extension along the north side of the lake from the present terminus to Youbou would be proceeded with next year, the road to the lake would be improved and widened, and steps would be taken to open a road into the Robertson River area, also an important logging district on the south side of the lake.

MENU IN CHINOOK
Thomas Pitt submitted the toast of the City of Duncan and Municipality of North Cowichan, Mayor J. I. Mutter replying for the city and Reeve J. N. Evans for the municipality.

Hugh Savage responded for the press. The dinner was held at the Commercial Hotel, the menu being printed in Chinook.

Keating

There was a good attendance of members at the weekly meeting of the Young People's Club of the United Church on Monday evening, and an interesting and busy evening was enjoyed. The president, Mr. Albert Hafer, was in the chair, and the meeting opened with a devotional period, led by W. McInure. Rev. Mr. Lee gave an address on the Book of Deuteronomy.

During the business meeting the service committee reported that flowers had been sent to two sick friends.

PAINTER HAD STOMACH TROUBLE 5 YEARS

It's pretty discouraging when a hard-working man has such severe stomach trouble as to keep him from work for two weeks at a time. Such was the serious condition of Mr. Herbert Brown, 68 Toronto Street, Winnipeg, when he first tried Tanlac. "Whatever I ate," writes Mr. Brown, "did me no good. It soured on my stomach and the gas would eat around my heart and cause it to palpitate until I thought it would jump out of my body. I had to give up eating solid food and liver practically on milk. For fully five years this kept up, as I had not been able to get any benefit from the medicine, I tried.

"At last I decided to get Tanlac and this put me right on my feet. My stomach is now in splendid condition and I eat like a horse. Everything agrees with me and I have never had a sign of gas or bloating since taking Tanlac."

This is only one of thousands of people who have been helped back to health and strength by taking Tanlac. Let it do the same for you. Get a bottle today at your druggist's. Money back if it doesn't help you.

Secretary of Treasury Replies to Al Smith's Criticism of Coolidge Finances

Washington, Oct. 18.—(By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer)—Governor Al Smith's scolding attack on Coolidge economy and Coolidge efficiency brought a warm reply last night from Secretary Andrew Mellon of the Treasury. Secretary Mellon takes the pictures of Coolidge administration as painted at Sedalia, Missouri, by Governor Smith and retorts that he does nothing but expose his own most superficial knowledge of what has actually taken place.

Mr. Mellon, with reference to the Democratic Presidential candidate's attack on the "Loyal Order of Woodpeckers," says: "If Governor Smith understood the meaning of the word economy in government he would not point the finger of scorn and ridicule at the items of minor savings effected by individuals holding minor positions."

SAVING FOR TAXPAYERS
Mr. Mellon adds in rebuke: "Nothing is more destructive of morale than to have a candidate for the Presidency of the United States hold up to ridicule and contempt the efforts of public servants to save the money of the taxpayers."

And the State Department is out with a statement which sets another "whisper" at rest. The department, so the statement runs, has investigated the antecedents of Herbert Hoover, Republican candidate for the Presidency, and has no doubt he has always been a United States citizen. Files in London for the period 1906-1918 have been searched and it has been found Mr. Hoover was properly registered as a citizen of the United States.

While public departments issue statements, the rank and file battle across the union and the two presidential candidates are hard at work preparing more speeches.

PRESTON APPEAL BEING PRESSED

Toronto, Oct. 18.—Denial they had authorized any person to serve notice of discontinuance of their appeal from the judgment of Mr. Justice Rose awarding Gen. Sir Arthur Currie $500 damages for libel is contained in affidavits filed in the Ontario Court of Appeal today by W. T. R. Preston and F. W. Wilson of Port Hope, Ont. Notice is given that a motion will be made to the Appellate Court on Friday for an order setting aside the notice of discontinuance.

NOT INFORMED
In his affidavit, Mr. Preston states: "I was not consulted in reference to the service of the said notice nor had any personal knowledge of the service until I read in the public press of October 13 of the discontinuance. I did not authorize, sanction or consent to the said action taken on my behalf and state I desire the said appeal should be heard. I believe the said notice was signed by W. A. F. Campbell, solicitor on record for the defendant, and last night I was assured by the said W. A. F. Campbell that he had not signed the notice and that he had no knowledge of any knowledge of the signature on the notice on his behalf."

Mr. Wilson, co-defendant and co-appellant, in his affidavit corroborates that of Mr. Preston and adds: "I was consulted on October 12 by R. R. Hall, K.C., of Peterboro, when I advised him by telephone that I wished the appeal to proceed and was writing him to that effect."

Police Force Is Declared Honest

Winnipeg, Oct. 18.—C. H. Newton, chief of police of Winnipeg, declined to comment on the charges made by Daniel C. Grant, provincial organizer of the Ku Klux Klan, that there had been laxity in the enforcement of the law in Winnipeg in an address before a meeting of the organization here Tuesday night. He said he had no knowledge of Mr. Grant and did not know him personally, so was not in a position to state whether his remarks were made by a man speaking with authority or from hearsay.

Prosecutor R. B. Graham said: "The Winnipeg police force is one of the best standing in integrity. Not only is it so regarded in Winnipeg, but throughout the continent and in the Old Country as well."

CANADIANS IN NEW YORK HEAR QUEBEC JUDGE

New York, Oct. 18.—(Canadian Press).—The country in which you were born is rapidly coming of age. You have no reason to be ashamed of it. It considers you its liaison officers in the great country of your adoption."

These were the closing words addressed by Mr. Justice E. Fabre Survever of the Supreme Court of Quebec province to the semi-annual gathering of the Canadian Society in New York last night.

Mr. Justice Survever spoke to a distinguished group which included Sir John Gloster Armstrong, British consul-general at New York, and Frederick Ridd, Canadian trade commissioner here.

His address was a survey of Canadian progress toward autonomy and nationhood. The effect of this change, he said, was to bring Canada closer to Britain than ever. Canadians would waver in their fidelity to the British Crown, Justice Survever stressed the gradual accession to Canada of broadened jurisdiction in her courts of law and increase in her powers in dealing with other nations of the world.

"Canada's election to the Council of the League of Nations," he said, "removed all doubt as to the place it holds at Geneva."

Zeppelin Repairs On Flight Described As a Great Feat

New York, Oct. 18.—A graphic description of the heroism and alarm-ship which kept the dirigible Graf Zeppelin nosing ahead after her port horizontal fin had been damaged by Reports continue to indicate shifting allegiances and the breaking down of old party lines.

In current gossip, Hoover is still the favorite for the Presidency. But in the Senate there seems a possibility of Democratic control. At present the party standing is: Republicans 48;

Democrats 45; Farmer-Labor 1; vacancies 2; total 96.

Thirty-seven Senators have to be elected in the present contest. Thirty-two represent the one-third of the total membership of the Senate retiring every second year and two are for the vacancies. The other three represent unexpired terms.

The passengers soon fell into ship-board routine, he said. Diaries were fatigued and the click of news reel cameras had become commonplace. The thrill had worn off, but in the control room the officers knew from their weather charts what lay ahead.

"Just before breakfast on Saturday we bucked straight into a squall," Commander Rosendahl said. "The Zeppelin's nose got it first. It bounded up as though some giant's hand had shot up a blow from the sea. As the bow went up the stern went down. There was a crash and clatter in the dining-room. Dishes went flying. Lady Drummond Hay suddenly found her eggs in her lap."

"And then the only woman passenger laughed. The tension eased and in a moment all hands were teamed up to tidy the damage. It was good fun."

Many Tributes Paid To the Memory Of Alexander Smith

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—From Premier King and representative Liberals in all parts of Canada have come messages of sympathy to the bereaved sister of Alexander Smith, K.C., whose death here yesterday, after only a few hours' illness, took from Canadian political life one of its most picturesque and outstanding figures of the last quarter century.

For years Mr. Smith, who was a close friend of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, was organizer of the Liberal Party of Canada. He died in his sixty-third year.

MacDonald's Plane Smallest Of Ocean Group

New York, Oct. 18.—Salient facts about the Gypsy Moth of Haviland plane in which Lieut.-Commander H.

C. MacDonald took off from Newfoundland yesterday for England, are: It was the smallest plane in which a long ocean flight was ever attempted. It had an open cockpit, thereby exposing its lone pilot to the elements. The majority of previous ocean flights were made in planes with closed cabins. It had a wing spread of only twenty-six feet and when folded this was reduced to nine feet ten inches. Its weight when empty was 893 pounds. Its single motor was a four-cylinder one of 85-105 horsepower. It carried no wireless.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—Instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach add intestines sour. Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggist. (Adv.)

ARTISTS NOT APPRECIATED

Leonard M. Davis, Eminent Artist, Protests Destruction of Douglas Fir

The worth of the artist to the community is not realized by the average citizen, while leaders of all nations extend generous support to art in all its forms. Leonard M. Davis, eminent artist of New York, pointed out to the Rotary Club, at the weekly luncheon at the Empress Hotel to-day, Mr. Davis remarked that the artist is not generally considered a community asset, but added that when he was in Alaska it was he who was called upon to fix machinery out of order. He had imagined and constructed the best hydraulic gold washing plant in the Yukon, had erected large bridges, built houses and carried out successfully many other constructive works, he said.

Mr. Davis pointed out that art expresses conditions as they existed at the time the artist lived, and the works of ancient artists are to-day the only means of realizing conditions, as they were thousands of years ago.

Regretting that people often represent the artistic inclinations of their children, Mr. Davis asserted that many persons to-day would not exert themselves more than sufficiently to secure food and shelter, were it not for art and the comforts of life promoted by the artist.

PAY HUGE PROFITS

He recalled that when Baron Haussmann had expended $300,000,000 upon beautifying Paris, he had foreseen that the result would attract all the world to the French Capital.

Mr. Davis believed that an advertising campaign to beautify the beauties of Canada would earn vast returns, comparable with the billion dollars annually poured into Paris by tourists.

Mr. Davis considered the beauties of Vancouver Island of great value. If New York possessed the giant Douglas fir seen here he doubted that it would be worth more than $100,000,000 a year.

"You cannot replace them; the human has the right to use anything, but not to destroy something for a million dollars which is worth that million every year as a tourist attraction," he protested.

Europe and the States are suffering from floods because they tore down their forests for money," Mr. Davis pointed out.

YOUTH'S FIELD

Walter Loney gave a brief classification talk as a builder. He believed great opportunities exist for youths in the building trade, and favored their early entry in the industry, preferably at fifteen years of age. He doubted the practical results of combining university training with building contracting.

Night study was of great advantage, Mr. Loney stated, adding that such courses had been of benefit to him personally.

CARNIVAL AND SALE

James Adam announced that the Rotary Club will give a Halloween cabaret dinner party at the Empress Hotel on Tuesday evening, October 30, when organization of the club's superfluous sale and the ice carnival would be advanced.

MANY ITEMS

J. P. Watson stated that the superfluous sale would be held on November 21.

ICE CARNIVAL

Mr. P. McConnell outlined the ice carnival, to be held at the Arena on November 10. The programme will include: Shipstead and Johnson, Gordon Thompson, May Fielding, Miss Norma Miles, a juvenile ballet of Vancouver skaters and members of the Connaught Skating Club, all presenting new numbers.

Not less than sixty prizes will be offered in the fancy dress competition open to the public.

VANCOUVER IS GIVEN CLEAN RULE PLEDGE

"That's all I have to say at present," Mayor Taylor concluded.

LEAD OF 2,004

The votes yesterday were divided as follows: W. H. Malkin, 19,324; L. D. Taylor, present mayor, 17,230; Louis Rubinowitz, 207. Mr. Malkin's lead over Mayor Taylor thus was 2,094.

The names on the voters' list totaled 73,078.

Mr. Malkin is a pioneer business man of Vancouver. The platform on which he ran calls for a "business administration."

Aldermen elected were: Ward 1—E. W. Dean (two-year term); Ward 2—C. Miller (two-year term); Ward 3—P. C. Gibbons; Ward 4—H. J. DeGraves (two-year term); Ward 5—Richard Wilson (acclamation); Ward 6—John Bennett (two-year term); Ward 7—Angus MacInnis (two-year term); Ward 8—W. C. Atherton; Ward 9—J. A. Patton; Ward 10—W. H. Lemke (two-year term); Ward 11—Warner Lusk; Ward 12—Dr. R. N. Fraser (acclamation).

The new council will take office on January 1, 1929.

Several aldermen with long terms of office were defeated yesterday. These included Frank Woodside, H. E. Almond and J. A. Gibson.

W. H. Lemke, alderman-elect for Ward 10, is the present reeve of Point Grey, and J. A. Patton, elected in Ward 9, is a former reeve of Point Grey.

One-half of the aldermen elected to the new council are city residents. Of the remainder, five reside in Point Grey and in South Vancouver.

KEEN CAMPAIGN

The contest for mayor was the most intense ever witnessed in the city. Early returns gave Mayor Taylor a lead in an east-end polling station admittedly his stronghold. A few minutes later, however, returns from Fairview, Mount Pleasant, Kitsilano and Point Grey gave Mr. Malkin an advantage which he never lost despite strong Taylor returns from the East End and South Vancouver.

SCHOOL BOARD

Greater Vancouver's new school board will consist of the following: Thomas Brooks, W. J. Baird, Miss A. B. Jamieson, F. L. Fellows and Mrs. Minnie Campbell, elected for two years. C. M. Woodworth, James Blackwood, J. E. Carpenter and Mrs. F. E. Hopkins or J. A. Campbell, elected for one year.

With nine polls to hear from, Mrs. Hopkins is leading—J. A. Campbell by 9,453 to 9,314.

PARKS BOARD

With only nine polls left to hear from, six of the seven parks board seats had been filled, at a late hour this morning. The four candidates elected for two-year terms are all present members of the board.

Those to hold office for two years are Jonathan Rogers, Fred Crane, C. E. Russell and E. G. Haynes. Two others elected for one year are H. Ross Holland and Alice Townley.

A close contest is being waged for the remaining post. The last check-up shows James Fyfe Smith with 13,483 and William Godfrey with 13,720.

HOW WARDS VOTED

The majority vote by wards was as follows:

Ward One	1,393	14	824

Grand totals: 19,234 236 17,230

Ward 3—Carrall, First, Venables Street and Harbor
Ward 4—East End to Burnaby boundary

Wards 5 to 12 occupy the municipalities of South Vancouver and East Grey, in various strips to the North Arm of the Fraser, together with those parts of the present city south of False Creek, thus embracing parts of Grandview, Mount Pleasant, Fairview and Kitsilano.

ATLANTIC PLANE FAILS TO MAKE LAND

SIGHTED AT SEA

One report of a plane sighted from a ship at sea came. It was as follows:

London, Oct. 18.—A wireless message from the steamship Harburg by way of the liner Levant reporting the passage of an aeroplane, presumably the Moth Newfoundland—England plane, shortly after midnight Greenwich time (4 p.m. yesterday Victoria time) was received here late to-day.

The message read: "Aeroplane passed steamer Harburg latitude 53.29 North, longitude 41.30 West. 0630 Greenwich—Meridian time."

MINISTRY WITHOUT NEWS

London, Oct. 18.—The British Air Ministry was on the lookout for tidings of Commander H. C. MacDonald, who left Newfoundland yesterday in a plane for England, but said this afternoon it had received no news of him. The principal passenger steamship lines also were without news.

"Although there are many liners on the Atlantic in addition to cargo vessels, it would be very easy for Commander MacDonald to fly across without any of them seeing him," one shipping company official said. "If he got a few miles off the usual track of shipping, he might not see a single vessel, especially if the weather were misty."

HEAVY WIND

Plymouth, Eng., Oct. 18.—Naval and air stations at Plymouth were on the watch for the Moth Newfoundland-England plane this afternoon, but at 3 o'clock (3 a.m. Victoria time) had seen no sign of it.

The weather was unfavorable. A gale was raging from the southwest and heavy rain made visibility poor.

NO WORD IN NEWFOUNDLAND

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 18.—No word had been received here up to 10.30 a.m. to-day of Commander MacDonald, who started in a tiny plane from Harbor Grace for Newfoundland yesterday forenoon. The weather changed during the night and there was a considerable fog and rain, with a southerly wind. A watch was kept at the Harbor Grace Airport until after midnight and beacons were ready in the event of the airman's return.

The Moth plane carried 100 gallons of gasoline which the flier stated would enable him to remain in the air for twenty-four hours.

ANXIETY IN BRITAIN

London, Oct. 18.—Watchers on this side of the Atlantic to-day were having an anxious wait for Lieut.-Commander H. C. MacDonald, attempting to span the Atlantic alone from Newfoundland in a tiny Moth plane, a feat never before accomplished.

At 11.34 a.m. (3.34 a.m. Victoria time) there had been no reports of his progress since hopping off from Harbor Grace, Nfld., yesterday. Almost nineteen hours had passed since he took off. Commander MacDonald's wife sat all night in her Kensington apartment waiting for news of her husband while their baby son slept peacefully.

At 7 o'clock this morning she fell asleep, thoroughly exhausted.

"She waited and waited for news until she could not keep her eyes open any longer," Mrs. MacDonald's maid said. "It is a very anxious time for her and I think she is worrying more because the news of Commander MacDonald's departure came as a shock."

She knew of course that he had intended to attempt to fly the Atlantic sometime, but had no idea he intended to start so soon.

of the lone airman were acutely conscious of the fact he had no wireless equipment and that the only possibility of hearing from him on his 1,900-mile flight over the Atlantic was the chance of his plane being sighted by some ship which would report by radio. The keenest lookout was kept along the Irish coast, which was where the first glimpse of the tiny machine might be expected as that was his announced landfall.

WAITED FOR NEWS

Mrs. MacDonald had a few hours of rest this morning, but by early afternoon was up and about and already had donned her hat and coat. The flier's wife, who is a slim brunette, was then showing signs of anxiety, despite a cheerful smile.

"I am all ready, dressed, you see," she remarked to a caller, "because I am waiting to go to the aerodrome. Although I have heard nothing of my husband I feel sure he will make for London and be here to-day."

HEARD BY RADIO

Mrs. MacDonald confessed news of the attempt which she had heard over the radio last night had come as a great shock.

"He has been manfully keen on this flight," she said. "He would not say much about it to his friends. He shunned publicity and sent his plane to America in advance so as to avoid any talk about the proposed flight. He has only done about eighty hours' flying and I am afraid he has never flown at night for more than perhaps half an hour."

"That would not make a lot of difference to him though, because he has spent all of his life in the navy and is a navigator. I've never been up flying with my husband and I'm not particularly keen to do so."

Just then the MacDonalds' little boy, Ian Crawford, aged five, burst into the room crying ecstatically. "My daddy is in an aeroplane," Ian was wearing the kilt of the MacDonald tartan. He was

GREATER VANCOUVER'S FIRST MAYOR

GREATER VANCOUVER HAS ELECTED Mr. W. H. Malkin as its first Mayor. Mr. Malkin has been conspicuously successful in his own business, he is well informed on municipal matters and on public affairs generally, he is a citizen of unchallenged probity, and he combines a genial disposition with a public spiritedness which has won him a host of friends. As a resident of Vancouver for many years Mr. Malkin has been identified with the various movements which have contributed to its amazing progress in the last two decades. The citizens of the amalgamated municipalities which will take their new name officially at the beginning of next year may expect from him an efficient administration.

The contest between Mr. Malkin and Mayor Taylor was unusually spirited. It is safe to say that Vancouver has not seen its equal in this respect for many years. But in all the circumstances, particularly the numerous terms he has served as Chief Magistrate and the antagonisms he must have aroused, the police inquiry and the vigorous campaigns of all the newspapers against him, Mr. Taylor polled a vote which obviously left the issue in doubt for some time after the checking of the ballots had begun.

A study of the votes cast shows that Mr. Malkin drew a great part of his support from the residential district of Shaughnessy Heights and Point Grey, while the industrial section of the city favored Mayor Taylor. It is not unlikely, too, that the relentless campaign the three daily newspapers conducted against Mr. Taylor, leaving him no editorial support, was responsible for a large sympathetic Taylor vote which otherwise might have been cast for Mr. Malkin. Of this Mr. Taylor, who is a shrewd politician, took the fullest advantage. Concentrated newspaper barrage on men running for public office often has had an effect the reverse of that intended. The records show that this has been the case in many cities in this country and in the United States. We recall one occasion when both the daily papers in this city exerted all their efforts to prevent the election of a candidate for the mayoralty, who won by a substantial majority. Mr. Malkin was nearly beaten by the vigor of the campaign conducted in his behalf.

Victoria will wish the Mayor-elect a successful term of office and hope that under his administration the great city whose destiny soon will be in his keeping will continue its phenomenal progress.

B.C. APPLES CAPTURE ONTARIO MARKET

THE FARMERS' SUN, PUBLISHED IN Toronto, gives us some information about British Columbia apples which should be noted by those who have been pressing for higher duties against the foreign apple. It informs its readers that apples from this province now are to be obtained in Toronto stores in dozen and half-dozen cartons—a new and attractive package—and explains:

Among Ontario apple growers there is little organized effort to market scientifically for home consumption. On the contrary, "bootlegging" of apples flourishes to the great disadvantage of the more responsible growers. Dealers from the cities invade the rural districts, buy up inferior fruit and place it on sale in city stores at prices slightly lower than the better quality. Thus is the market for the home-grown product demoralized, while British Columbia fruit, chiefly because of the excellent condition in which it reaches the consumer, finds a ready sale at good prices.

People who buy apples nearly always demand the best quality and if the fruit is done up in an attractive manner, as the British Columbia product appears to be, it is bound to find a ready sale. It already has been pointed out that the best course for the apple growers of this province to follow would be to improve their marketing methods and add still further to the reputation which their products obviously have established. No practical purpose would be served by a policy which would restrict the demand on the score of higher prices.

HOW SELF-GOVERNMENT WORKS

AT ITS ANNUAL CONGRESS YESTERDAY the Nationalist Party of the Orange Free State altered its constitution by taking out that section of it which pledged its members to work for an independent republic of South Africa. In its place it has substituted a clause which binds the party to acceptance of the declaration of the Imperial Conference of 1926, which acknowledges the right to maintain sovereign independence. The amendment stipulates, however, that any attempt to infringe such liberties as are embraced by the Imperial Conference declaration would be opposed.

When Premier Hertzog was in opposition we well remember he was heartily in favor of an intensive campaign in favor of withdrawing the Union's membership in the British Commonwealth of Nations and the establishment of a completely independent republic. But when the Labor Party politely informed him that he could count on its support only if the Nationalists would eliminate the republican plank from their platform, he swung his axe and removed it. Many thought at the time that he was actuated by political expediency and nothing more. That may have been the correct interpretation of his course.

Then came the test of public opinion at the polls and on the morrow of the election General Hertzog was ready to wear the shoes then in possession of Premier Smuts. Timid imperialists in various parts of the Empire shook their heads. It was freely predicted, but only in a minor key in Great Britain, that with a Nationalist Government in power in South Africa it would not be long before the Act of Union which the Parliament of the United Kingdom had passed in 1909 would be scrapped. Not a few at that time—and they have changed but very little in their outlook since—alluded to what they called the unwisdom of the Campbell-Bannerman Government in giving "conquered" states home rule until their loyalty had been put to the severest tests. None of the dire things predicted happened at all. The responsibility of office, as usual, mellowed Premier Hertzog and most of those who shared his views.

Then Premier Hertzog went to the Imperial Conference. He met all the other Prime Ministers of the Empire. He heard them speak plainly of their own problems, their separate business within the Empire, heard members of the British Government almost more emphatic in favor of self-government than some of the Dominion Premiers themselves. He went back home convinced that his country was free to look after her own affairs. The official act of the Orange Free State Nationalist Party just reported, moreover, suggests that it now agrees with Sir Robert Borden's view—that self-government has strengthened the ties between Great Britain and the Dominions because they are "ties based on unity in liberty and open-handed justice."

MORE K.K.K. BOMBAST

ACCORDING TO A DISPATCH FROM Winnipeg "The Invisible Empire of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan" is about to commence "cleaning up" the Prairie capital. At a meeting held there recently the gentlemen of the pillowcase brigade announced that Moose Jaw already had been attended to and "made half decent to live in."

There is nothing to prevent zealots who exaggerate their responsibility to society from attending meetings attired in strange raiment. But as soon as they begin to usurp the authority of the official custodians of law and order they will find out that their imported formula is very much out of place in Canada.

There is no room in this Dominion for any organization which attempts to replace existing laws with laws of its own. The moribund Klan across the border has little chance of reviving itself in Canada. Canadians are no so "easy" as that.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

The chairman of the Illinois State Board of Pardons and paroles says that Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, who slew little Bobbie Franks for the thrill of the experience, will be eligible to parole within six years. Society thought that Loeb and Leopold had been put away for good. The judge said in effect that this would be the only way to meet the ends of justice and safeguard society. These darlings of Chicago's wealth were saved from the noose by the skill of Clarence Darrow in showing that they had abnormal minds. Are they any less abnormal now, or will they be six years from now?

THE UNDERWORLD "400"

Some things in this world are a bit puzzling to a man who lives to everything. Here is a little story to prove it. But before you read it, consider these fairly well-known facts: Police officers and detectives are maintained to arrest lawbreakers. Carrying loaded revolvers is against the law. So is making whisky or beer. So is the selling of these commodities. So is murder.

Got those? All right. Now for the story. In Chicago the other day there was buried a gentleman named Lombardo, who had been shot down, in bright daylight, at the world's busiest street corner. Lombardo was a gunman, gangster, beer runner, and so on. His funeral, consequently, was far grander than most law-abiding citizens can ever aspire to. There were two pallbearers, in tuxedos. The very cream of Chicago's underworld was present. The crowning glory lay in the fact that Al Capone himself was present, in person. This great man mingled with the throngs, surrounded by an alert bodyguard. He was affable and peaceable.

During all of this, of course, throngs of police and detectives stalked about through the crowd. It is hard to make out just what they were doing there, but they went, anyway. A reporter who attended remarks that all of the mourners shook hands with their left hands. The right hands, it seems, were reserved for the sudden use of pistols, should that become advisable.

Now, viewing this story in the light of the facts about police and lawbreakers detailed at the beginning, what do you make of all of this? Capone is the greatest gunman, beer runner, extortioner and vice king in Chicago—unless all men have lied about him. Present with him were hosts of lesser criminals. There were enough guns at the funeral to stock an arsenal. And, likewise, there were enough police there to handle a battle of Gettysburg.

Yet nobody was arrested or bothered. When Capone had viewed the remains sufficiently he went away in peace. So did his followers. The police manfully resisted any temptation to spoil the occasion by making arrests.

What's it all about? Are gunmen a class beyond the law? Is there a state within a state in Chicago? Are the law enforcement officials absolutely helpless? Solve this little puzzle, so vexing to us average men, and you will solve the whole puzzle of America's crime waves.

You won't solve it, however, unless you ask a good many questions dealing with politicians, high-pressure lawyers, legal technicalities and a court system so antiquated that it creaks to high heaven.

GRAF ZEPPELIN IS PREPARED FOR FLIGHT OVER U.S.

Lakehurst, N.J., Oct. 18.—Repairs are being carried out on the damaged port elevator of the transatlantic dirigible Graf Zeppelin here. What the storm had left of the fin's fabric covering was trimmed away yesterday, the improvised wall of blankets used to bandage a gaping hole in the Zeppelin's flank at the base of the fin was taken down, and all was made ready to stretch a new covering over the damaged member.

It is expected the repairs will be completed by Saturday or Sunday, and early next week the dirigible will take the air again for its two or three-day flight to the Middle West. In the meantime Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander, and his associates will be given a reception in Philadelphia today, and on Friday will go to Washington to have breakfast with President Coolidge and lay a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier of the United States.

Premier King At Event in London

London, Oct. 18.—Premier King of Canada yesterday attended a luncheon tendered by the British Government in honor of the delegates of the Empire Parliamentary Association, who had just returned from their tour of Canada and were about to disembark. Some of them to return to distant parts of the Empire.

Premier King said he was sure the delegation while in Canada had learned how Canadians had the greatest possible pride in British traditions and British institutions.

LIFE THREATENED

Chicago, Oct. 18.—John Hertz, president of the Yellow Cab Company, reported to the police here yesterday that his life had been threatened and that he had been warned his grandchild would be kidnapped. Acting State Attorney George E. German, following the complaint of Mr. Hertz, prepared subpoenas for the head of the Checker Taxi Company and two attorneys representing the Checker Company. Two weeks ago two Yellow Cab garages were bombed and the racing stables of Mr. Hertz were burned, eleven thoroughbred race horses were destroyed at a loss of $200,000. The trouble was described as an outgrowth of a taxi war after a Checker driver had been shot and killed.

Alderman William Marchant, chairman; Mayor J. C. Pendray, Aldermen H. C. Litchfield, John Harvey and John Worthington composed the court.

This, he said, was a fact to be borne in mind when people asked the Government what they were going to do about a number of things.

APPROPRIATIONS

A similar condition existed in the other Government departments, Mr. Hinchliffe said.

Brilliant Fashion Show Staged Before Big Crowd

Wonderful Gowns By Local Firms At I.O.D.E. Show

Miss Helen Mackenzie Among 500 Guests at Gonzales Chapter's Fashion Parade Yesterday; Local Society Girls As Mannequins; Lovely Accessories Shown.

Dame Fashion walked hand in hand with philanthropy yesterday afternoon at the Empress Hotel, when a number of the leading stores of the city staged a brilliant fashion show under the auspices of the Gonzales Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

As Mrs. Walter C. Nichol, the regent, noted in her graceful little opening address, the proceeds would be used for such laudable undertakings as the sending of Christmas hampers to needy families of ex-service men and the supporting of the I.O.D.E. war memorial scheme. She also made a plea for the fostering of the Girl Guide movement.

OVER 500 PRESENT

The spacious ballroom proved inadequate to accommodate the more than 500 guests, and the palm room was pressed into service for the occasion. The setting was most attractive with its flower-decked tea-tables, many of the flowers being supplied by Brown's Nurseries Limited.

At the head table, with its centrepiece of cyclis carnations and greenery, were seated Miss Helen Mackenzie, Mrs. W. C. Nichol, Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Mrs. J. Hebdon Gillespie, Mrs. Myra Martin, Mrs. G. M. Ponton, and Mrs. Herbert Wilson.

THE MANNEQUINS

Miss Ines Carey and Miss Daphne Gillespie, in charming Watteau costumes of primrose yellow and blue respectively, and carrying dainty hat-boxes, heralded the approach of the graceful mannequins, who included the Misses Mary Martin, Marjorie Oates, Vivian Watson, Marjorie Fraser, Helen Wilson, Patsy Heming, Joan Hennell, Millicent Umbach, Marion Wilson, Sheila Gillespie, Norah Wilson, Rosemary Johnston, and Phillips Luxton. Major Bullock-Webster, of the B.C. Dramatic School, was the announcer. Miss Millicent Umbach designed the very striking cover design on the programmes.

The Empress Hotel Orchestra played throughout the afternoon and during the intermissions Miss Betty Sazanah and Mrs. G. Elliott sang, with Mrs. C. C. Wain at the piano, and Miss Irene Black contributed violin numbers, with Miss Eileen Dumbleton at the piano.

ANGUS CAMPBELL'S

The elasticity of the term "sports wear" was aptly demonstrated in the group shown by Angus Campbell and Company Limited. Under this heading came a fascinating silver metallic jumper, horizontally banded at the hip-line with Peking blue, with pleated crepe de Chine skirt of blue to match. Another, of the fashionable Golfex persuasion, was a two-piece frock of gull grey with faint brown check, the jumper buttoning diagonally across to one side over a pleated skirt of the same material.

For more serious attention to sports was the scarlet and white woolen jumper suit, with skirt patterned all over in a white, plaid-like design, and the jumper of the plain scarlet relieved on the left hip-line with the pattern arranged diagonally. Another colorful ensemble suitable to tennis included a sleeveless jumper of heavy orange wool, ornamented at the hips with a conventional design in blue, and worn over a white woolen sweater and pleated silk skirt.

GOLFEX COATS

Two handsome Golfex coats, one of fawn with baby lamb collar and one of grey tweed with fox collar, showed how beautiful utilitarian garments can be.

For more dressy afternoon wear Campbell's showed an orchid georgette frock with pointed folds of the bodice and uneven skirt, and a diamond band around the waist, looking lovely enough for evening wear. With it was worn a close-fitting, iridescent sequin skirt.

wear was of black transparent velvet with a bodice of dull gold and blue metallic stripes. White lace, the bodice, but sophisticated miss was a becoming gown of black crepe-back satin with horizontal stripes of dull blue, burgundy and plum at the waistline and an inset of the burgundy satin on the front-left of the bodice. Over this was worn a black broadcloth coat with velvet collar.

Evening gowns from the Campbell store included a lovely picture frock of Chartreuse green, with bodice of transparent velvet cut away at the shoulder for a rhinestone strap, and very full skirt of rows and rows of green tulle ruffles, very short in front and dipping at the back. A fascinating gown of orchid peau de sole had a scalloped, dipping hemline and a slim bodice ornamented with beads in two shades of mauve and lightened at the waistline with an inset band of cerise velvet, while a huge bow of the frill graced the hip.

COCKTAIL COATS

Cocktail coats of a loveliness to tempt the most ardent advocate of prohibition were also displayed by Campbell's, one being an exquisite creation of white georgette heavily beaded all over in white and patterned in beads of salmon-pink with green leaves. Another for the older woman was of black beads with a bold, handsome design in silver beads from each hip to the hem, a similar design on the wide flowing sleeves and a band of silver beads around neck, hem and fronts.

pleated skirt, the very essence of ultra-smart sports wear.

Main show, by Spencer's, with its coats and ensembles included a sophisticated little skull cap of jade green feathers from Hyland's of New York; a fawn sports hat of fur felt, ornamented with a pokerwork and hand-painted design of fruit; a smart English model of seal-brown fur felt with pheasant breast-feather crown; a midnight blue fur felt with feather pads in three tones of blue, and a steel-grey skull cap with rhinestone ornament; a black velvet hat for dress wear showing the new long-sided effect; a smart turban with trimming in three shades of burgundy, and a little black poke hat of hatter's plush and fur. All the shoes and accessories worn with this group also came from David Spencer Limited.

HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY

Sports suits, afternoon frocks and evening gowns were represented in the collection shown by the Hudson's Bay Company. Among their sports suits was an imported wool cardigan sweater in grey, trimmed with lido blue and worn with pleated skirt of blue frisco cloth, and a felt hat in Monet blue.

A three-piece outfit consisted of a novelty butterfly skirt, beige colored knit wool cardigan and rose colored suede leather coat, with a "Knott" sports hat of beige fur felt.

Very striking was a two-piece sports frock with top of modernistic Autumn colors and flared skirt of brown velvet, with a Meadowbrook hat of brown soleil.

bodice and narrow belt and was worn with a beautiful white fox scarf.

SKATING SUITS

Two or three novel skating-suits were shown, including one of novelty knit wool with white flannel sunburst skirt and a scarf and cap to match, while another smart outfit included a coat made of Hudson's Bay point blanket in multi-colored stripes, worn with a French beret tam.

All the smart shoes, hats and accessories used by the Hudson's Bay Company on its models also came from its own stock, and in addition the "Watteau" hats worn by the programme girls and the hat boxes carried by them were donated by the company.

DOROTHY WINDER'S

The well-known firm of Dorothy M. Winder was represented by a very striking display of afternoon and evening gowns. One lovely Chanel model was of the period style in black velvet lined with gold tissue and with over-dress of black net embroidered with gold.

Another evening gown in period style, suitable for the debutante, was of shell-pink taffeta with plain bodice and the very full skirt composed entirely of tiny petals.

For the older woman was a gorgeous gown of gold chiffon, heavily beaded in silver, and with the new drooping lines so becoming for evening wear.

The afternoon frocks included a beautiful afternoon gown of independence blue transparent velvet, embroidered in three shades of blue, with

YESTERDAY'S CHARMING MANNEQUINS

This group of pretty girls contributed largely to the success of yesterday's fashion show at the Empress Hotel by their graceful wearing of the many exquisite creations from the local stores. The girls are, from left to right, back row: Misses Millicent Umbach, Helen Wilson, Phyllis Barton, Effi Luxton, Marjorie Oates, Marion Wilson, Rosemary Johnston, Sheila Gillespie. Front row: Misses "Tommy" Wilson, Ines Carey, Patsy Heming, Marjorie Oates, Mary Martin and Marjorie Fraser. The Misses Vivian Watson, Joan Hennell and Daphne Gillespie, who also assisted, are not in the photograph.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDERED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

ANSWERS FOR VARIOUS QUESTIONS

Mrs. W. B.—It is quite natural for the breasts to be flabby after nursing. I do not know of anything that can be done about it. In fact, it is always too dangerous to manipulate the breasts for one to advise any method of trying to develop or reduce them. Better let them alone.

Mrs. M.C.—Your neighbor's child had really been susceptible to diphtheria, he would have developed it, and taking such dangerous and unnecessary connections as kerosene or turpentine and sugar would have been of no help. Children may be exposed to diphtheria and be susceptible to it, as can be proven by the Schick tests which are given for just that purpose. If the child is not susceptible to the poison of diphtheria, he will have no reaction at all if given the Schick tests and so does not need the three doses of toxin-antitoxin which will prevent his taking diphtheria. I assure you that your neighbor can't make a case for kerosene or turpentine upon such imaginary evidence. Your good sense tells you that those are not medicines. See answer to Mrs. W. B. above. The nipples should be prepared for nursing by scrubbing them daily with a soft brush and soap and water, and rubbing some oil on them afterwards. Milk always runs from the breast which is not being nursed, and I do not think that ever effects the milk supply to any appreciable extent, though it is disagreeable. It is an experience common to every nursing mother.

Mrs. C. B.—The baby is given cereal beginning the fifth month. It is begun in teaspoonful amounts. An article on this will appear this week. Put the hood of the carriage over the baby so that he can get the benefit of the air without having it blow directly in his face. As he only takes one feeding at night you can stick to the three-hour schedule for several months. If the baby does not seem hungry every three hours in daytime, or nurses but a short time, and gains well, you can change to the four-hour schedule. There are no absolute laws about this; it depends entirely on the individual baby.

In starting orange juice you can use one teaspoon of juice and two of water. Later you can make it half and half. Mrs. S. F.—You are the victim of silly superstitions. Of course there is no truth to what you have heard. How could there be?

This was worn over a beautiful dinner gown of black lace, softly pleated and with a broad band of silver beads at the low waistline.

With this group was shown several exquisite fur coats from Foster's store, one of dyed ermine with the new detachable fox collar, another of grey squirrel, beautifully lined and embroidered on the inside.

The hats shown in conjunction with Angus Campbell's gowns and coats were from Miss Livingstone's and showed the popularity of the close-fitting sports model hats of black and other fur felts, with an occasional rhinestone ornament, clipped ostrich brush or one-sided brim effect to add the note of chic.

DAVID SPENCER LTD.

The group shown by David Spencer Limited made up in quality for what they lacked in quantity, only seven models, all imported, being shown by this firm. Regal in appearance was a gold and rose brocade evening cloak, lined with jade green velvet and with fitch collar, worn over a beautiful evening gown of black georgette, with a dull rose and gold metallic design, the long drapery edged with fox fur.

Equally sumptuous was a silver lame evening cloak with grey fox fur over a gown of black georgette, beaded all over in black, the her full skirt having the fashionable uneven hemline, and a soft tulle bow in black falling from the left shoulder.

Another exquisite evening gown was of black, embroidered all over in a beaded design of apples and leaves in their natural colorings, with soft godets of black tulle inset at intervals around the skirt to impart the uneven hemline.

IMPORTED MODELS

Two outstanding afternoon coats shown by Spencer's included a black duvetyne with grey kid forming the newest mushroom collar, the gaudy cuffs and the vandyke border at the hem, and a model of black broadcloth with lyx collar and cuffs.

For sports wear was shown a stunning ensemble of novelty check tweed in maple-leaf shades, with sleeveless wool pullover to match. A lemon knitted ensemble suit had its long, tailored coat and jumper embroidered in gold and pastel shades, with a plain circ ribbon trimmed. Another smart outfit included a sports coat of fancy camel cloth with novelty collar of leaf fox, and a Deauville model hat of solid felt in cap shape with ear laps.

FOR FORMAL WEAR

Among the fascinating clothes for more formal afternoon wear was an imported afternoon frock of printed transparent velvet, draped at the side with a V-shaped neck finished with tie, worn with a large Cavendish picture hat of pale rose fur felt with soft velvet bow trim. Black georgette trimmed with novelty transparent velvet with flared and pleated skirt and novelty buckle of rhinestones fashioned a frock for the matron. With this handsome gown was worn a Gainsborough model hat of black moire, and black moire shoes to match.

A delectable afternoon frock of marine-blue georgette crepe and scarf of self-material trimmed with white georgette was worn with a coat of poutu de peche cloth trimmed with platinum American opossum, and a Gage hat of blue transparent velvet.

Suitable for afternoon or dinner wear was a gown with top of gold tinsel cloth, skirt of black Elizabeth crepe, draped at the side, and worn with handsome coat of black needlepoint cloth trimmed with long shawl collar and deep cuffs of grey squirrel fur, and a "Granard" model hat of gold metallic cloth.

EXQUISITE EVENING GOWNS

Among the exquisite evening gowns from the Hudson's Bay Company was a French imported model of flesh-colored georgette, trimmed with crystal and gold beads, worn with a gold net opera cap and an evening wrap of black chiffon velvet handsomely embroidered in gold and lined with heavy gold satin. Another striking model from Paris was of French blue chiffon taffeta, the front embroidered in gold and pastel shades, with flounce skirt with large butterfly bow at the side.

A sumptuous evening wrap of flesh-colored chiffon velvet with a futuristic design on the upper part concealed a beautiful imported evening gown of black net trimmed with flesh-colored chamois and with the uneven hemline. A French evening gown of Lido blue chiffon silk had a beaded vestee of the blue, and a stunning model gown of nigger brown satin, finished with a deep back yoke and jabot of real lace, and the new tight hip-line. Lovely also was the black lace and transparent velvet afternoon gown over shell-pink, which was worn under a beautiful model coat of chiffon broadcloth with sable collar and cuffs, and very smart hat of black.

SCURRAH'S LIMITED

Gowns, coats and hats for every occasion during the Fall and Winter season were shown by Scurrah's Limited. Fascinating sports clothes included a futuristic black and white sports dress in printed crepe and hat en suite, a smart knitted golf suit in royal and chin-chin blue, with orange and black stripes around the pullover, and royal blue felt hat to tone; a stunning sports model in Morocco red with monogram and piping in black and sand, and drooping felt hat and leather bag to tone.

Almost in the sports class but dressy enough for afternoon wear was a novelty topcoat of cream Highland fleece in large plaid design, rose predominating, double-breasted, flat pockets and belted, lined throughout with crepe de Chine. Another smart coat was of Charleston cloth, oak shade, with deep collar and cuffs of brown mole. A Deauville model hat of felt in the same shade, completed this outfit.

OAKWOOD SHADES NEW

The very original afternoon gowns shown by Scurrah's included one of transparent velvet, in oakwood shade, with unusual bodice design of seven-point coming up to the collar and continuing around to the long-waisted back with tie. Over this stunning gown was shown a coat in the same tone in Casa Grande cloth with long shawl collar of self-trimmed fisher sable and cuffs of the same, finished with two-tone sunray lining. A Gainsborough model hat of velvet completed this charming toilette.

With an afternoon gown of heavy crepe-back satin in two-piece effect, a cascade effect of parchment lace in applied design making a striking trimming, was worn a black coat of kitten's ear trimmed with a magnificent set of natural wolf collar and cuffs. A pumpitious Hudson seal coat with collar and cuffs of Kolinsky made

For 200 years Fry's has been highly valued for children

FROM the far off days of George II, and on through the reigns of George III, George IV, William IV, Victoria, Edward VII and our present sovereign, George V, the cocoa (or chocolate) made by this historic House has ever been given a high place as an article of diet for children.

Little ones were thriving on this famous food beverage for nearly 140 years before Canadian confederation.

And FRY'S is still the choice of mothers throughout Canada and the world who wish their children to grow bonny and strong. The experience of 200 years makes it supreme for quality and for taste-tempting flavour. Have you a tin of FRY'S in your home today?

WHEN BABE HIT
THREE HOME RUNS

It was one-two-three home runs for the Babe in that last game of the world series with the St. Louis Cards. Here he is crossing the plate in the fourth inning after driving one of Wee Willie Sherdel's offerings over the right field wall. Lou Gehrig is shown standing at the plate.

—And the feat was repeated again in the seventh inning when the Babe lifted another high and far over the right field stands. That was the blow that unlocked Sherdel from all his stuff and it should have been enough for the Babe. But —It wasn't just to show Bottomley, Meusel, Gehrig and others who the real home run king of the majors was, he dropped another over the wall in the eighth inning, giving him three for the game and the honor of having tied his world series record of 1925. It seems the Babe is puffing a bit from this excursion around the paths. Lots of work, you know, to hit three home runs in one day!

Navy Come From Behind and Score Three Goals in Row to Defeat Bays 3-2

Rennie and Taylors and the Navy were the winners in yesterday's Wednesday League soccer games. The Bakers accounted for Saanich United by 5-2 at the Royal Athletic Park, while the bluejackets downed the Hudson's Bay 3-2 at Beacon Hill.

As a result of their win Rennie are undisputed leaders of the league with two victories in as many starts. Last week they handed the Navy a 4-0 trouncing. The Bays and Navy are tied for second place each with a win and a loss in two starts. Rennie have been leaders in the race for several years.

Playing on wet ground and with a slippery ball which made accurate kicking impossible, Rennie and Taylors accomplished the downfall of the Saanich United.

The Bakers opened the game on the offensive and pressed hard into the Saanich territory, but the good work of the Saanich backs and the wild shooting of the Rennie and Taylor forwards prevented any score for some time. Nevertheless, several good attempts were made on the goal by the Bakers' wing men but their shots lacked force when they reached the opposing goal.

After about ten minutes of the first half had elapsed Saanich went on the attack but Newman and Tupman on the defence for the opposing squad prevented any rushes from being dangerous. From then until the half-time whistle sounded play was ragged and passing inaccurate with only a few shots being sent in to the two goalkeepers.

DAVIES SCORES
However, Davies, playing outside left for the Bakers, succeeded in registering a tally after about thirty minutes of play, from a scrimmage in front of the Saanich net.

In the second half both teams tightened up and play was fairly even until fifteen minutes after the opening of the game when Groves, inside right for Rennie and Taylors, lodged the ball in the net for the winners' second tally on a nice pass from Purdy.

From the centre Saanich pressed into their adversaries' half and Brown finally succeeded in scoring on a foul from in front of the Bakers' goal.

PLAY-SEE-SAWS
For the next fifteen minutes play saw-sawed between the two ends with both forwards shooting wide.

The Bakers' next counter was registered when Davies dribbled along the wing and sent in a floater to Tooby in the Saanich goal. The net tender evidently thought the ball was going too high for he made no attempt to prevent it from lodging in the corner of the net.

Taylor scored the winners' fourth goal after making a nice individual run half the length of the field. He closed in on the Saanich custodian and gave him no opportunity to stop the shot which he drove between the posts. Shortly after, Groves again scored on a neat pass from Davies to bring the Bakers' count to five.

Brown netted the final goal for his team a few minutes from time following a scrimmage in front of the Bakers' net.

The teams were: Rennie and Taylor—Geddes, Newman, Tupman, Wyatt, Hinchliffe, Stewart, Taylor, Groves, Wright, Purdy and Davies.

Saanich United—Tooby, Barry, Ash, Stonier, Moir, Love, Hayward, Brown, Hawkes, Spellar and Carwell.

Coming from behind the Navy ran in three counters to take their game from the Hudson's Bay. The tars trotted out a few new men on their line-up and as a result were a greatly strengthened team from last week and will bear a lot of watching in the near future.

Play started fast with the Navy doing most of the pressing but over-eagerness on the part of their forwards spoilt many chances, and for ten minutes no score resulted.

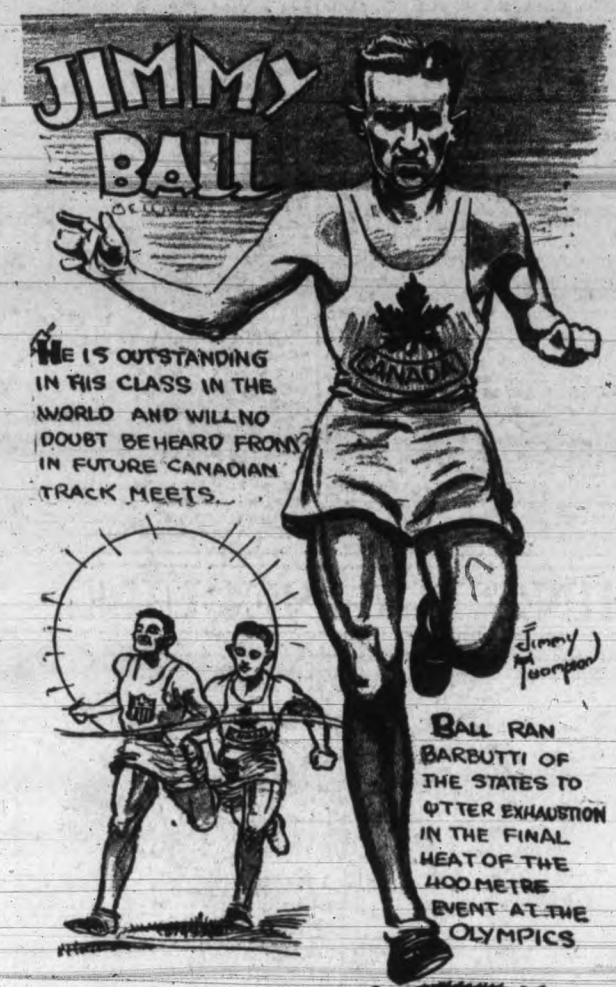

GOAL A GIFT
The Bays' first goal was a gift. Cull, fleet wing man of the departmentals, carried the ball in and centred. Obee sent an easy roller to Barker, who let the ball slip out of his hands for the first tally of the game. The Navy carried the ball to their opponents' half of the field, but fell down in front of the goal. Cosier, an old-timer in football circles, was playing a great game at this stage, his crosses being high and accurate. Obee missed a glorious chance to score when Barker dropped the ball. Roberts took a pot shot for the Navy but shot wide and a second later Cosier did the same thing. Robinson had Shrimpton beaten all the way but hit the upright. Play hovered around centre. Fish scored the Bays' second goal on another easy shot. Just before the rest period Cosier tallied for the Navy to make the score read 2-1.

SAILORS THE SCORE
On resumption of play the Navy pressed and Shrimpton stopped a hot shot from Robinson but failed to clear. Cawthorne driving the ball home for the sailors' second counter.

The Navy forced a corner but Shrimpton picked the ball off the ward's toes. At this period the Navy were pulled up frequently for off-side. Shrimpton made a wonderful save from Roberts' "Rabbit" reply with a fast daisy cutter that had Percy beaten all the way. Play for the final few minutes stayed in centre field and when the whistle blew the tars walked off with their first victory in two starts.

Lewiston handled the whistle. The teams were: Hudson's Bay—Shrimpton, Gardener,

A Speedy Manitoban —By Jimmy Thompson

There was at least one case of insufficient experience that cost this country points at the Olympics. Jimmy Ball was the unfortunate victim. Although track races are even worse than the ponies for not running to form, it's more than a tough problem to say for sure that inexperience beat the speedy Winnipeg boy. In the eyes of Canada's greatest and best sporting writers and critics, Jimmy is the world's fastest 400-metre man and certainly Canada's fastest.

Jimmy finished, as everybody knows, second to Ray Barbutti of the United States. Credit must be handed to the plucky Yank who was beaten by Ball in a heat earlier in the day. In the finals apparently Ball considered his worries over as far as Barbutti was concerned. Some say that Ball merely misjudged his sprint and did not break soon enough to pass his man. However, whatever the trouble was, Ball showed enough ability to win favorable comment from all who saw him run.

Club is Attempting to Promote
Water Polo and is Lining
Up Strong Team

To encourage the younger swimmers of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club to improve their strokes and better their times, R. W. Hiberson, popular president of the association, has donated two cups to be awarded to the boy and girl making the most improvement during the next six weeks.

Several coming youngsters have manifested their enthusiasm over this novel competition which has never before been tried in the city. Commencing next week, all entrants will be timed for their different strokes over set distances. These times will be recorded and during the next two months officials of the club will conduct tests to ascertain the progress being made by the contestants and when the time is up the swimmers who have made the greatest improvement will receive the trophies.

NOVICES HAVE CHANCE
In view of the fact that the best swimmers of the city are practising all the time and consequently will not be able to show a very marked improvement, the opportunities for the less proficient entries will be great and many newcomers are expected to take part in the competition.

The distances for which swimmers will be timed has not yet been decided but it is thought that fifty yards will be sufficient for the tests. The strokes to be used will be the crawl, backstroke and breast stroke.

PROMOTE POLO
The club is also making a determined effort to promote water polo in this city and has been practising on Thursday evenings in preparation for games with Vancouver. The local team appears to be fairly strong at present and includes such well-known stars as Frank Gilbert, Tom Wellburn, R. W. Hiberson and Bert Buller. John Foubister, Frank Hyslop and Bill Robertson will also hold positions on the team while several other club members are striving for places on the squad. Captain Tom Wellburn is anxious to get in touch with any other players in the city and would be glad to see them at the club practices on Thursday evenings.

Veteran Wrestling Champion Retains Title After Being
Knocked Out

Los Angeles, Oct. 18.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis took two falls out of three last night to defend his title successfully against the challenge of Marin Plestina, Jugoslavian heavyweight grappler.

Lewis took the first fall in 41½ minutes with a headlock. Plestina had obtained two successive headlocks on the champion when Lewis got his crushing hold and took the fall.

KNOCKED OUT
Plestina came back to take the second fall in 12 minutes with his pet hold, a flying wedge. Lewis was knocked out by the force of the impact and a physician was called to revive him. The champion was ready to return to the mat by the time the third session opened and took the final fall in two and a half minutes with a backward body slam.

Plestina outweighed the champion by 12 pounds, tipping the scales at 242 pounds.

Gene to Open
Literary Salon

London, Oct. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. James Joseph Tunney are reported to have taken a lease for a year of a house in the Mayfair quarter of London where, after their honeymoon, it is said they intend to form a literary salon.

Harry Preston, English sportsman and friend of the retired world heavyweight champion, yesterday said that he still expected Gene to enter the ring again.

He had told Tunney that he remained one record for him to break, referring to the occasion three years ago, when Jack Dempsey fought four English heavyweights in succession at a boxing tournament.

OUR MAIL BAG

THE FOOTBALL REFEREE

To the Sports Editor:—I was an interested reader of the article in the Saturday night's issue of the Times about football referees. It was very interesting as so much criticism has been leveled at them. It is easy enough for a player or spectator to say the local referees if he studies the seventeen laws of the game, and the referees' chart, also a quick mind to answer the "catchy" questions. But it is very difficult to referee a game. A referee can keep rigidly to the rules of the game and yet still get it. The most precious possession of a good referee is his own head. He should not treat players like naughty children and he should not let the players "browbeat" him. The superior attitude is fatal. There are players who often "joke" a referee. Sometimes when two big players meet they like nothing better than to give each other a hefty bump. If the spirit is good, let it go on the lines of a game. A referee who has passed an examining board to go on the lines so that a referee can give a linesman some responsibility. Since the official rule has been changed and a player needs only one player and the goalkeeper in front of him when he secures a goal, a referee is not always in a position to give a decision, whereas if he had a linesman who had passed a test he could depend on him giving a fair decision.

HORSE RACING

Tanforan Park, Oct. 18.—Challenging in the stretch and running down the middle of it, with increasing power, Fortunate Girl, a beautiful chestnut filly, three years of age, sired by Whiskaway, and a granddaughter of The Friar, making her bow to Western racing crowds, captured the California Handicap yesterday afternoon. It was a great finish for the J. C. Millan filly, that was out-run by lengths in the early part of the race. A length back was Proctor Hug. Mike Syufy's brown colt, who had also come with a race rush after the last race, got the place. Orestes II was third.

BRENTWOOD WINS GAME

A very interesting rugby game was played at Brentwood Tuesday afternoon between a team from the H.M.C.S. Vancouver and Brentwood College. The students won by a score of 20-3. In spite of the fact that the field was very wet there was a great deal of brilliant play by the three-quarters on both sides.

In the first half Brentwood pressed hard. The first try for the school was scored by Matthews, and Robertson converted. "Other tries for Brentwood in the first half were made by Campbell (2) and Hickson. None of these were converted.

In the beginning of the second half the navy's team retaliated, and for some time were near their opponent's line. Play then centred in the middle of the field. A free kick was awarded to Brentwood just outside the navy's twenty-five. Mitchell made a splendid drop kick over the bar. The navy then took the offensive and after many attacks Louis finally got over. The try was not converted. Shortly before the whistle Campbell scored Brentwood's fifth try.

SAWDUST LEAGUE STARTS AT Y.M.C.A.

Oaks Defeat Cedars and Pines Overcome Firs in Opening Basketball Games

A single basket decided the first game in the Sawdust Basketball League played at the Y.M.C.A. last night, when Peter McKeechle's "Oaks" sent Ernie Harwood's "Cedars" down by a 20-24 defeat. In the second game of the evening Duncan McPherson's "Pines" had a comparatively easy time in disposing of S. Hill's "Firs" by a 29-13 score.

The first encounter was featured by the heavy checking and accurate shooting of P. McKeechle and S. Wright, while in the latter tilt Engleison and Bradshaw proved the stars when they ran up twenty points for the winners.

The teams were as follows: "Oaks"—McKeechle, Moore, Woolridge, Rounding, and Davey. "Cedars"—Harwood, Cook, Peden, Butler and Wright.

"Pines"—Hill, Smith, Brooks, Natch, Woods and Cameron, Green, Engleison, Smith and Bradshaw. Last night's games opened the season of the newly organized league of four senior teams, and judging from the amount of enthusiasm shown in the first encounters the season should prove a great success.

WAR LEFT HIM TO SUFFER TERRIBLY

Until He Found Happy Relief in "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Many a battle-scarred veteran of the Great War has found succour from pain and suffering in "Fruit-a-tives." This famous medicine, made from fruit juices combined with the finest medicinal ingredients, has helped a host of men to adjust themselves to modern conditions and to correct these faults of digestion and elimination which resulted from their terrible war experiences.

"Ever since leaving the army," writes Mr. E. E. Newman of Iona Station, Ont., "I suffered terribly from Constipation. After spending a lot of money on medicines, I took four boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and I can sincerely say they gave me permanent relief."

Other Great War veterans have taken "Fruit-a-tives" for Rheumatism, Kidney Trouble, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, Nervousness and Sleeplessness with equally gratifying results. Try them. 25c and 50c, a box at dealers everywhere.

EPIDEMIC ADDS TO NEAR EAST BURDEN
Appeal Made For Refugee Children Stricken With Dengue Fever

Dengue fever, the epidemic which has swept Greece, is adding seriously to the responsibilities of the Near East Relief and Save the Children Fund authorities, according to a letter received from the Landsberg local treasurer, from C. C. Thuermer, field secretary at Athens.

The letter follows: "Despite our almost superhuman efforts to send out 600 children from Syria during July and August, 721 still remain in the Orphanage. Our failure to carry out orders had been due to the terrible dengue fever epidemic which has swept throughout Greece. Over ninety per cent of the population in and around Athens have been stricken. Only one of my entire personnel escaped. For weeks I had no stenographer or cashier, or janitor. Because of the shortage of food and milk, one had to fight even with a doctor's certificate, to secure these vital essentials."

FEVER-RACKED KIDNERS
"I turned our Summer camps into a hospital of one hundred beds, every tent was filled and we had rows of beds under the trees. Miss Carr, with our student nurses from Syria, has rendered heroic service and not a single child has died; but in many cases our work of years has been undone. If you could see these fever-racked little bodies of the boys and girls down in our beautiful camp by the sea, you would think that they were the same bundles of bones I picked up in Turkey seven and eight years ago. All these years of careful nursing and building up in many cases seem to have gone for naught.

Unless the people at home can be roused and give as never before, so that we can lend these boys and girls a helping hand with nourishing food and proper rest, our doctors are certain that many will develop tuberculosis. Many of them are left with weak hearts; others with pleurisy and rheumatic fever. The peak of the plague has been reached and now I must bend every energy not only to reduce the number at Syria to 600 by October 1, but to 300 before the end of the year, unless there are drastic big enough to bear our cry and give these little one at least another year in the Orphanage."

MONEY NEEDED
"Eighty more Armenian boys will be sent to Egypt before the end of October and many of the older Armenian girls. But what can I do with the blind, and the deaf-mute, and the feeble-minded and mentally defective orphans? We have applied to the Greek Government and they realize to a certain extent that they are responsible for these children. But Greece has no funds to establish a blind school, and they have scores of other blind children on the streets begging for a living. If we turn our orphans over to the Government all they can do is to give them a tin cup and turn them out on the streets to beg."

"Thousands and thousands of our 17,000 orphans brought from Turkey are to-day big, strong young men and women, self-supporting; many of them are married and have established their homes and have become self-supporting, self-respecting citizens. But for these little ones we are sending out now there is absolutely no chance unless we stand behind them for a year or two longer. One little ex-orphan girl brought to our camp hospital is only twelve years of age, but is a skilled weaver in a rug factory and earns thirty cents a day, which is really an unusually high wage; but with this she supports herself and her crippled mother entirely. One little lad of eleven has just started earning his living as a shoemaker, at eight cents per day, but our Working Boys' Home provides him with a rug, and the boy must provide his own food and clothing and other expenses."

"Many of the orphans who are to come to us during the next few weeks from Syria are eleven and twelve years of age. The only hope for them will be in our four working boys' homes and two working girls' homes. I know you will do what you can that these little ones may live."

IMPARTIAL. Non-political, impartial and non-partisan, the Chamber provided a clearing house for a great deal of enterprise and activity, the speaker pointed out. Furthermore, it did not initiate its own policies so much as it carried out activities instigated by the citizens, many of whom were not members.

"And many of these people have benefited to the extent of thousands and thousands of dollars through the Chamber's efforts."

ACTIVITIES. The Chamber's activity in connection with the Crystal Garden, postal regulations, boat arrivals and train schedules and many other items of public service were outlined by Mr. Nicholas. When Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, had come to the city working on an industrial Chamber delegation. To what other organization could he have gone if the Chamber had been non-existent? asked the speaker.

"I don't know of any major objective which the Chamber has had in view in the last eight years which has not been carried out, and you will be told by members of the old board of trade that there is no major programme which has failed during the last quarter century," Mr. Nicholas declared.

GRAIN ELEVATOR. The grain elevator, lumber assembly plant, motor ferry system and other industrial enterprises were mentioned by the speaker as items in which the Chamber had had a prominent hand.

"There is scarcely an industry or enterprise in Victoria which owes its existence to Governmental co-operation, which is not due to the activity of the Chamber of Commerce," Mr. Nicholas said.

"Victoria can't do without the Chamber. If it disappeared to-morrow, it would be necessary to create another body having the same function and making the same demands for support."

to at once become active in the work of the Chamber.

ABSDURD NEED. P. B. Fowler, president of the Chamber, spoke a few words regarding what he termed "the absurd need for a drive like this."

"It does seem queer that people must be beseeched to come and join the Chamber and then get back much greater value than that which they put in," he said.

Before marshalling his canvassers, Chairman McGregor announced he had secured twelve new members during the week while preparing for the drive.

He expressed the hope that the campaign would go beyond its objective with little trouble.

BIGGER PLANT AT "CENTRAL"
Telephones Increase at Record Rate; Exchange Is Enlarged

To keep abreast of the rapid growth of Greater Victoria, two new sections of the telephone board at the Victoria exchange of the British Columbia Telephone Company Limited will be put into service this week.

The new sections will add over 600 lines to the system which now serves over 18,000 subscribers.

Installation of the two sections has been proceeding for several weeks, the work requiring additions to all the sections already in operation. Six new operators will be required to serve the increased facilities.

A RECORD INCREASE. During the past year an increase of 1,023 services has been registered by the Victoria exchange, this being the largest gain recorded in one year since the Blanshard Street exchange was placed in service.

MONOPHONES PLEASE. Distribution of the new monophone instruments is proceeding as fast as they are received from the factories. Several consignments have been installed in Victoria, but a long waiting list has accumulated.

Cheats Death In Two Forms As Ship Burns

Bert Webb, of Hydrographic Survey Vessel Thistle, Miraculously Saves Own Life When Craft Blows Up; Unable to Swim, He Jumps Into Water As Fire Gains Hold on Hull; Boat Is Total Loss.

Bert Webb, engineer of the Dominion Government's hydrographic survey launch Thistle, had a miraculous escape from death by fire and drowning last evening as the ship took fire while loading gasoline. The Thistle later blew up in the harbor and burned to the water's edge. Mr. Webb jumped into the sea, although unable to swim. He was rescued by a small boat which put out to his aid.

The fire started at the Government wharf in Sooke while the ship was loading supplies, among which was a quantity of gasoline. The engineer was the only man aboard at the time and a sudden explosion behind him spread sheets of roaring flame around him.

John L. Lewis Aids Hoover Campaign

New York, Oct. 18.—The plea that unprecedented conditions render it imperative "from the standpoint of organized labor as well as democracy," that Herbert Hoover, Republican nominee, should be elected President of the United States, was made here last night by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, in a radio address.

"We are in the midst of a new industrial revolution which will become the marvel of the civilized world," Lewis said. "The astounding basis of procedure underlying this new development has been that prices should be lowered to the consumers' reasonable margin of profit maintained for the producers, and at the same time the wages of labor should be increased in accordance with the principle of increased productive efficiency. "So far as organized labor is concerned," he said, "a general practical method must be worked out for guaranteeing labor definite equitable participation in the increased productive efficiency of industry. "It is at this point that the vital need of Mr. Hoover's election to the Presidency at the present time becomes clearly apparent."

FOUR PASSENGER LINERS TO CALL HERE SATURDAY

Waterfront Workers Will Have Busy Day With Big Ships In

With four deep-sea passenger liners in port, waterfront workers will have one of their busiest days for some time on Saturday, when the Empress of Canada and the Iyo Maru tie up inbound to Vancouver and Seattle from the Far East and the President Jefferson and the Kaga Maru dock here on their way to the Orient. Longshoremen and customs and immigration officials will have a busy day, having to remain on wharf practically the whole day with only a few hours between boats for lunch.

The first ship to dock will probably be the N.Y.K. liner Iyo Maru, which is due at the William Head quarantine station at 4 a.m. This time should bring her to the Rithet Pier between 6 and 7 o'clock. Although no definite information has been received regarding the time of arrival of the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada, it is expected she will arrive shortly after the Iyo, tying up about 8 o'clock. The Iyo will go to Pier 1 and the Empress to Pier 2.

In the afternoon the N.Y.K. liner Kaga Maru will call here on her way to China and Japan. The Kaga is expected about 10 o'clock. She will tie up at Pier 2. Both ships will put to sea about 6 o'clock. Before many hours will have elapsed they will have lost sight of each other, the Jefferson steaming far in advance.

CAPT. S. ROBINSON, R.N.R.

by any Canadian city of comparative size. The per capita loss for the year was thirty-eight cents, compared with $1.05 in 1926, and ninety-seven cents in 1925. Victoria topped all Canadian cities in its own classification for cities between 10,000 and 50,000 in population.

Compared with Victoria's record the 1927 per capita loss of other British Columbia cities is quoted in the report as follows: Vancouver, $4.64; New Westminster, $1.25, and North Vancouver, $1.06. A table of fire losses for a successive period of sixteen years shows considerable fluctuation from year to year, with a marked trend towards lower losses in recent years.

In its thirty-one-page report on the city recently the B.C. Fire Underwriters credit Victoria with an average per capita fire loss in the last five years of under $2.50.

To Get Views On Technical School For Victoria To-day

To ascertain what attitude the Government would take should Victoria decide to renew its application for provincial assistance in the establishment of a technical school, city school trustees will meet Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, this afternoon. An early decision on the matter is sought by the trustees because to make Government assistance possible the application must be made before March 31 of next year. Government assistance would be to the extent of forty per cent on the cost of the building and fifty per cent of the cost of the equipment, the contribution being divided evenly between the Provincial and Federal Governments on the Provincial Government approving the application, should the ratepayers of Victoria endorse it on a second vote.

Two Children Are Burned to Death

Franklin, Man., Oct. 17.—Two children were burned to death yesterday in a fire which destroyed the homes of Richard Wiley and his brother John, near here. Both victims were the children of Richard Wiley, Audrey, fourteen months, and Wilfred, two years old. The fire broke out in the upper part of the house, where the two children were trapped in their bedroom. The father was away threshing when the fire broke out and the mother was in the village shopping. A south wind carried the flames to the adjoining residence of John Wiley and both buildings were destroyed.

CABINET FAVORS TAX CUT

Change in Taxing Method
Preferred to Secession in Saanich

Government Forecasts Aid For United Municipality

Legislation limiting taxes that municipalities may levy on farm land, or legal recognition of a new basis of assessing land as wild, farm or subdivided, were advanced as alternatives to secession in Saanich, by members of the Government yesterday afternoon, after a sympathetic hearing had been accorded a large delegation of Saanich farmers, who appealed to the Cabinet for approval of secession of the rural northern portion of the municipality.

Members of the Government voiced no sympathy towards proposals for secession, but Premier Tolmie pledged early action after the Government had thoroughly looked into the petition. The meeting took place in the Executive Chamber, with a full attendance of the Cabinet. The case for secession was presented by C. H. O'Halloran, supported by W. O. Wallace and H. E. Tanner. Mr. Wallace believed that an independent investigation by an expert named by the Government would result in a satisfactory solution being discovered. It was his personal opinion that the assessment system of Saanich was "all wrong." He did not wish to see a split in Saanich.

TIERED OF MANAGEMENT

H. E. Tanner recalled that eighteen years ago a similar agitation for secession had arisen in the northern wards. "We are sick and tired of municipal management as experienced in Saanich," he asserted. Retirement of municipal indebtedness at this time made the occasion ripe for separation. Mr. Tanner declared the farmers foresee new money by-law for sewerage and waterworks, secured by the farming areas and passed by the massed weight of the votes concentrated in the inner wards which would benefit from the improvements. "This would put tax relief for the farmers far into the distance," he warned.

SCHOOL TAXES

Hon. W. C. Shelly, Minister of Finance, inquired as to school costs, which had been described as being the prime cause of dissatisfaction. Mr. O'Halloran explained that the rural areas continue largely to the maintenance of the schools required by the densely-populated inner wards.

Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Secretary, asked if assessment of farm land on a basis of its farming earnings would aid, if lots were classified on the basis of their subdivision worth. Mr. O'Halloran was doubtful, but thought the plan might work if the rural areas received a return of all the money they contributed in taxes.

Hon. J. Hinchcliffe, Minister of Education, asked "Are your burdens located in educational costs?" and Mr. O'Halloran replied "Yes."

SUGGESTS CLASSIFICATION

Hon. N. S. Loughheed, Minister of Public Works, suggested that a system of classifying land as wild, improved or lots might be devised for general revenue purposes, with school costs levied also on improvements. Such a plan had worked satisfactorily to his own knowledge. Mr. O'Halloran reminded the Minister that no legislation at present exists for such a system. Mr. Loughheed asked if creation of a Greater Victoria would not automatically solve the question. Many objections were chorused.

Premier Tolmie suggested that a maximum tax on cultivated farm land might be struck, all additional funds required to balance municipal costs being levied on property other than farm land. Councillor L. Hagan feared such a system would not work, pointed out the lack of legislative authority and assured the Cabinet that large numbers of people are moving to Saanich from Victoria and Oak Bay to evade taxes.

OPPOSES SPLIT

Robert Baird, Inspector of Municipalities, called upon by Premier Tolmie to suggest a remedy, expressed opposition to secession, as capable of piecemeal destruction of Saanich. He recommended the basis of taxation be modified. Asked by the Premier if serious difficulties had followed secession, Mr. Baird said no similar case to the proposed Saanich split has been known in British Columbia, previous divisions of rural municipalities being for inclusion of parts in cities.

Attorney-General Pooley advised the secession committee to ascertain what methods Manitoba had adopted to cope with similar situations, being confident that the matter was no new problem in other provinces.

At the conclusion of the hearing Mr. O'Halloran informed the Cabinet that the municipal experience of Saanich had been the determined insistence of the council to free the urban areas of high taxation. He declared Reeve Crouch to be a bitter opponent of the farming areas, and quoted extracts from election speeches to that effect.

Premier Tolmie asked when the next municipal elections would take place and Councillor Hagan replied "next January, but we do not want another election."

W. O. Wallace remarked "When this agitation first started Reeve Crouch said he would be glad to get rid of us farmers. Why is he now so anxious to keep us within Saanich? He wants our credit back of his sewers and waterworks."

The deputation included the following: W. O. Wallace, H. E. Tanner, D. Francis, A. E. Hull, E. John, J. J. Elliott, G. Robertson, H. D. Colon, Fred Turgeon, W. D. Mitchell, H. Hagan, J. W. Shuggett and M. McI. Dean.

Municipal Polling In England Test

London, Oct. 18 (Canadian Press Cable).—Special interest attaches to the municipal elections throughout England, which will be held November 1. In view of the fact that they will be some extent foreshadow the possibilities of next year's Commons general election.

The new parliamentary register under which women of twenty-one years and over have the vote instead of women of thirty and over as previously, will not be operative until next May, but in local government registers women are already slightly in the majority having the local vote at twenty-one years of age provided certain property conditions are fulfilled.

In some cities an alliance of Liberals and Conservatives against the Socialists exists in municipal elections. Conservative candidates this year are contesting all of the 1,300 seats of the twenty-eight London borough councils. The Socialists are also out to elect as many as possible. There are already Socialist majorities in eight of the London boroughs.

THREE ALDERMEN TO VACATE SEATS

Aldermen J. B. Clearihue and James Adam to Retire From Field

Contests Likely For All Ten Seats Open at December Civic Polls

Three of the five members of the City Council who would have to seek re-election this year are definitely retiring from the aldermanic board. It was learned today that Alderman J. B. Clearihue is retiring from the position of alderman to-day, a return to the council as mayor. Mayor J. C. Pendray has already announced he "does not choose to run."

Alderman J. B. Clearihue made it clear to-day that he will not stand for re-election at the December polls in any capacity, and his example will be followed by Alderman James Adam, it is understood.

Alderman H. O. Litchfield, chairman of the industrial committee, indicated to-day that he was considering his course, and is expected to offer himself for council honors again.

Including the majority six council seats will be open for contest at the election.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, William Marchant, J. L. Mars, John Worthington and John Harvey have furthered their present term to serve.

Other seats to be thrown open will include one on the police commission, where Commissioner W. E. Stanland is completing his second year of a third consecutive term. Opposing Mr. Stanland if he defends the seat will be Andrew McGavin, it is understood, while mention of other candidates is also being made.

In addition three two-year term seats will be opened on the school board. December 6 has been fixed as the date of the nominations, with the election to take place on December 13.

The unofficial summary of those mentioned for office is as follows: Alderman E. B. Brown and John Deane for mayor; Mrs. H. Crocker, J. A. Shanks and Robert Smith, and Alderman H. O. Litchfield and E. S. Woodward for the council; Trustees George Jay and W. C. Moresby, K.C., and P. E. George for the school board, and Commissioner W. E. Stanland, Andrew McGavin and James McGregor for the police commission.

With two months yet before the test the official announcement on nomination day is expected to contain a plurality of candidates for all seats vacant.

As Trafalgar Day, which is one of the annual festivals of the North Saanich Service Club, falls this year on a Sunday, the committee has decided to hold a military five hundred in the club hall on Saturday next, starting at 8:15 p.m. Following the cards and refreshments a short dance until midnight will be held.

Harrison Whitehead, charged under the Liquor Act with having liquor in a rooming house, was remanded in City Police Court this morning until to-morrow. Prosecution evidence had started with Sergeant Healey on the stand when City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison declared he wished to amend the information and charge the wife of the accused, R. C. Lowe appeared for the defence.

Two all Canadian telephone circuits, from the Pacific Coast to Calgary and other Alberta points, will be in operation in the course of a few weeks. G. H. Halse, chairman of the board of directors of the British Columbia Telephone Company, yesterday announced. Hitherto all commercial business to prairie points has been routed via Seattle and Spokane. Experimental tests over Canadian wires have already been successfully conducted.

Mrs. T. Mitchell, 451 Durban Street, who was knocked down by an automobile on Yates Street, near the library last night, was reported resting easily to-day by Dr. Walter Batty, who attended her. She was badly bruised, but otherwise uninjured, said Dr. Batty. Mrs. Mitchell was crossing the road from the library to the Dominion Hotel about 9:30 o'clock when a car driven by L. Lilley, 1228 Fort Street, struck her.

LADY MEMBER OF CHAMBER SIGNED

Junior Body Receives First Lady Membership Since Inauguration

The Junior Chamber of Commerce to-day received its first lady member when Miss J. N. Monks, sister stenographer, was signed as a member of the organization during the membership campaign.

Growing interest in the Chamber is indicated by the decision of one of the fair sex to take an active part in the body. Miss Monks was signed by Hubert Leblay, one of the energetic Chamber workers engaged in canvassing to-day.

Satisfaction with the results of the canvass was expressed by officers of the Chamber. A total check of the number of new members will not be completed until this evening.

Up to twenty-five applications for new memberships had been signed.

FIRE CAUSE IS MYSTERY

Small Explosion in Dallas Road Home Starts Blaze; Little Damage

A small explosion in the pantry of a residence at 152 Dallas Road, resulting in an outbreak of fire this morning, was considered a mystery by Mrs. M. J. Atkins, who resides there.

Engines from the fire department were called out at 7 a.m. to extinguish the blaze, which had gained only small headway when they arrived. The damage was negligible.

Mrs. Atkins was at a loss to explain the cause of the fire. She had been awakened, she said, by the sound of a light explosion, and came down to find the pantry in flames. No one in the house smoked cigarettes, she explained, and it could not have been caused by smoldering tobacco or anything of that nature.

A. L. H. Somerville, acting consulting engineer, at Ogden Point, will deliver an address on the progress of the elevator in the Sons of Canada Hall this evening at 9 o'clock. The meeting will be open to the public.

HUGH FERGUSON, PRAIRIE PIONEER, DIES SUDDENLY

Former Moose Jaw Man Collapses at Gate of His Home Here

Hugh Ferguson collapsed suddenly and died almost instantly at the gate of his home, 604 Foul Bay Road, at 11:05 o'clock last night.

Mr. Ferguson had come out to bid good-night to Dr. Lloyd McIvor, who had been spending the evening with him, when he suddenly fell over. Dr. McIvor gave him aid, but found that he had passed away as a result of an attack of angina pectoris. Mrs. Ferguson, who had been out for the evening, had returned home only a few minutes before.

Mr. Ferguson had been prominent in church, political and club life since he moved here fifteen years ago from Moose Jaw. He had enjoyed perfect health.

Mrs. Ferguson at the Foul Bay home, one son, James Ferguson, of Edmonton, a stepson, William Winters, at McGill University, and a brother, Duncan Ferguson, of Victoria, survive him.

Mr. Ferguson was born in Leckwary, County Argylshire, on December 2, 1859. He came to Western Canada in the early days and settled in Moose Jaw in the early 90's. There, as the West grew, he developed large realty holdings. His holdings there are still extensive, comprising a number of blocks in the centre of the city.

Before finally moving his home to Victoria, Mr. Ferguson had been coming to this city to spend the winter for several years, and through these visits built up a wide circle of friends here.

One of Mr. Ferguson's pioneer associates on the prairies is now in Victoria in the person of Senator Ross, of Moose Jaw, who is wintering here. At the Angela Hotel, Senator Ross recalled Mr. Ferguson's early activities, his remarkable success in the pioneer community and the confidence he had manifested in the West, even in the darkest days.

Mr. Ferguson was held in high esteem everywhere, as a westerner of sterling character.

When he came to Victoria Mr. Ferguson became a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, with which he maintained his connection. During the last couple of years, he was prominent in the affairs of the Laurier Club, acting as one of the directing committee with President Stephen Jones.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made. They will be announced on the arrival of his son from Alberta, who is now on his way here. The body is at the B.C. Funeral Parlors.

CATHOLIC WOMEN PLAN CONVENTION

Annual Meeting to Be Held Tuesday, October 30

Plans for the annual convention of the Diocesan subdivision of the Catholic Women's League were made at the October meeting held at the Bishop's House last night. The convention will be held at the K. of C. Hall on Tuesday, October 30, afternoon and evening, commencing at 2 o'clock. In the evening there will be addresses and a musical programme following supper at 6:30.

Mrs. Cannon was appointed voting delegate from the Victoria subdivision. Arrangements were discussed for the forthcoming bazaar, and stalls not yet assigned were given in charge as follows: Candy booth, Children of Mary; fishpond, Mrs. Chapman. The bazaar will be held in the showrooms of the Beggs Motor Company. Rev. Father Evans announced that the Knights of Columbus and Young Men's Institute would co-operate with the league members in the arrangements of stalls.

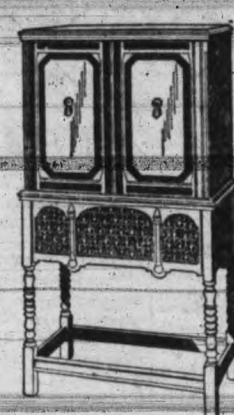

On a motion by Mrs. Sabin, seconded by Mrs. Grant and Mrs. de Blaquiere, the sum of $100 was voted as a contribution towards church taxes.

Miss H. O'Brien, speaking for the social service committee, reported many cases which had been helped and which would require continued care. Mrs. Blair Reid was thanked for a valued contribution of clothing and an appeal was made for more gifts of this kind. Assistance from the Ladies' Aid was acknowledged with thanks, and Mrs. Hunter kindly took the convener'ship of the sewing circle to provide for additional needs. Miss O'Brien spoke appreciatively of the work being accomplished by the matrons in charge of the sewing circle.

Mrs. Sabin reported for hospital visiting during the last month and showed an active interest in many patients in St. Joseph's Hospital. The matrons, Mrs. Blair Reid told of a very successful rummage sale. Mrs. Plumb in thanking Mrs. Reid, made a special mention of the fine goods given by Mrs. Blair Reid, and Dr. J. L. Thompson for assistance given. The question of a more active interest being taken in the Home Economics Department of St. Ann's Convent was voted.

STOCK MARKET FINANCIAL NEWS GRAIN MARKETS

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Brunson, Brown & Co. Ltd., Leased Wire)

Winnipeg, Oct. 18.—Wheat market extremely dull and narrow to-day with nothing of feature going on, the bulk of the trade being spreading between the different months, export business was flat, apparently being confined to a small amount of No. 3 northern, which was worked overnight, and nothing new came in this morning. Houses with seaboard connections were doing nothing. The range in values was very little, and while the demand was very poor there was no pressure on the market. There was wheat for sale when the market went up a bit, but on the dips nothing came out.

The cash market was also very slow, with exporters doing nothing, while local shippers were taking the light offerings at spreads unchanged from Wednesday. Mills were doing very little, and reported the flour demand rather quiet. A little better shipping activity is anticipated towards the end of the month. Supplies in Canada and the United States continue to pile up, and world statistics appear very bearish, but producers here and in the United States continue to show a holding tendency in the hope that something will damage new crops. Believe bulges will be difficult to hold and advise sales on the upturn.

Flax dull, drab market with demand very small. A little scattered liquidation by third holders, but market without feature. Closing prices % to % lower.

VANCOUVER MINING MARKET

Vancouver, Oct. 18.—Thursday forenoon's sales on the stock exchange were not indicative of a fast moving market. The prices were firm and the volume of trading fair. The local market is, after the recent turnover, somewhat restless, and requires, apparently, a stimulating influence.

Dunwell held its gains, selling at 23. Georgia River was stronger between 24 and 39, Kootenay Florence steady at 18½, Lakeview around 24. Lucky mine at 25, L. and L. at 8½, where it was a considerable trader, and Big Bear at 56 and 56½.

MINI

STOCKS HIGH IN NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 18—Trading facilities on the exchange were swamped to day by a wild outburst of speculation in high-priced stocks, more than a score of which skyrocketed to high levels of gains running from $5 to $30 a share. Buying orders poured on to the floor in such tremendous volume that the ticker fell 45 minutes behind the market with indications that the day's sales would run close to 5,000,000 shares.

NICKEL SHARES . AT HIGH PRICE

Toronto, Oct. 18.—International Nickel shares again occupied the centre of attention on the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day. Trading was carried on in the shares of the company for an hour after the opening the price rose to $175, a new high for all time. This represented an overnight gain of $10.00 over yesterday's closing price.

Profit-taking, however, developed rapidly, and toward noon the price fell to $167. From then to the end of the day it fluctuated between $165 and $170, closing at the lower figure.

Rumors of a merger between International Nickel and Mond Nickel persisted, despite the fact that the latter is believed to be responsible for the rise in the shares of both companies.

Mond Nickel followed International to-day into a new high price level, and closed later in the session than the other at $55 1/2.

More Women Speculating In Stock Market; Luckily None of Them Are Bears

New York, Oct. 2.—How many women speculate on the stock market? Nobody knows, but there are numbers, and these are growing steadily. In many a broker's up-town office in New York one sees the sign "Women customers only."

Some women were very successful in the recent bull market.—One young lady, well known for her nerve, is reported to have run her original investment of $32,000 up to more than $1,000,000. She is still at it. Perhaps she will reach a million when she is through. Perhaps not. "Who can tell?"

Most women customers go into the market to make quick money. The woman speculator is an optimist. She always speculates for the rise in the market. She rarely knows anything about the other side. Few women sell short. So, many of them must have made money in the last five years, thinks one broker. But in a falling market—

A Story of the Mystic East

The Riddle of Siwa

By DIXON KAYE

Author of "Dr. Burney's Greatest Case."

CHAPTER XIII

Try as he would, Seymour could not keep this girl from his mind; the force of her personality thrust itself upon him every hour of the day. She assumed that they were in love with each other on every possible occasion, and frequently referred to her future position as one of his two wives. "But first," she always added, "let us accomplish our task in London and free poor Ahmed."

As the days passed, Seymour began to adopt this view himself; let this task be accomplished and his life his own again, then he could order that life as he wished.

But he had reckoned without Xenia and her wonderful powers.

She came to him as he was pacing the deck one evening after he thought she had retired for the night, and he was going to his lonely cabin.

For some reason she appeared to be moved by great anger; she whom he had left only a few minutes before calm and placid, had now the flashing eyes of a Fury.

"Seymour!" she cried, "I have been dreaming, and I have talked with Abdullah!"

He saw then that she had come on deck wearing only her robe de chambre. "I have talked with Abdullah, and he has heard me. We must marry directly the ship reaches England. Life or death depends upon it."

Seymour stood looking at Xenia in amazement, and she repeated her statement.

"We must marry directly the ship reaches England."

And now she added more to it: "Cannot we be married here on board by the captain?"

"Preposterous!" he answered, now quite losing his patience with her. "I do not wish to marry you!"

She looked at him.

"Not marry me," she replied. "But you love me. I know you do. You may not think so, but you do. You began to love me the first time you saw me asleep in the Seraglio. Men cannot conceal their feelings, they show in their faces what they feel. Besides, I am much handsomer than the other wife whom you are going to marry—Eva."

"What do you know of Eva?" Seymour gasped. "I have never mentioned her name to you. How do you know it?"

"I know many things," she answered mockingly. "I know that your friend, Sheikh Ibrahim, is in love with your Eva and may steal her away from you before you can marry her."

Her knowledge astounded him; but the first thought he had was of the pyramid at all and thus bring Eva into peril! He blamed his obstinacy a thousand times, and yet—There was the glamour of it all. Would he have missed it?

Xenia and he paced the deck for some minutes before speaking; then he broke the silence.

"Do you know Ibrahim the Sheikh?" he asked.

"Oh yes, I know Ibrahim well. He has often been to the Tomb. He knows Abdullah well, but at present they are not very good friends."

Seymour looked at her in the moonlight; she was as beautiful as the moon itself, but it appeared to him that she had grown older, and harder in her manner. The look of anger on her face when she first came to him that night, and which still remained, had taken her soft girlish look.

"But you have not answered my question," she reminded him. "You have not told me if the captain can marry us."

"I am perfectly certain," he answered, "that the captain cannot legally marry us."

"Legally marry!" she laughed. "What a fuss you people make about a trifle. Why, anybody could marry us. Let us go ashore and find a priest."

"I shall not go ashore and find a priest, for the good reason that I do not intend to marry you!" Seymour answered heatedly.

When they reached the head of the companion-way she stopped.

"You shall marry me as soon as we land," she said.

"That I never will," replied Seymour, his heart full of Eva's pure personality.

"Yes, you will," answered Xenia, her eyes flashing. "Abdullah will make you. You are entirely in his power, and mine!"

She gave him one look, full of determination, as she turned and descended the companion-way.

Seymour stayed behind and paced the now deserted promenade deck for some time. He thought of this dilemma from every point of view, but never abated one iota of his steadfastness to Eva.

Then as he turned for the last time, with the intention of going down to the loneliness of his cabin, a thought struck him, and he turned back.

He had been told in the document in the sealed packet given him by Osman to go straight to Sir Amroth Milvain. To him he would go; his name sounded like that of an Englishman. He would confide all his troubles to him.

CHAPTER XIV

Seymour kept strictly to his resolution to write up his diary every night, so that it should be ready to send to

Eva from the first port they reached. But he found it increasingly difficult to keep Xenia out of it as the days went on.

He had been absolutely true to Eva through all the storm of passion Xenia now hurled at him. He had not sinned against his fidelity to his affianced wife either in thought, word, or deed.

His difficulties were not lessened when at Malta the biggest bore in Cairo forced the ship and crew to stop off actively with a slap on the back. This man, whose name was Wild, was known at the Cairo Club as the "Wild-bore."

"Been stayin' a fortnight at Malta," he explained as they walked aft, "with my brother-in-law, who's in the gunners—awful good chap."

Seymour had seen the "awful good chap"—who was in uniform and therefore unmistakable—waving adieux to Wild, and these adieux appeared to have more joy in them than sorrow.

Seymour understood it; the poor man had assumed a fortnight of Wild's boredom.

But it was on the second day of his arrival that the annoyance began.

"I say," observed Wild—who was not a gentleman—"that's a nice bit of fluff you've got at your dinner table. Where did you raise her?"

"The lady at my table was picked up by the purser," Seymour replied frigidly, "and she is a stranger to me."

"Oh!" answered Wild, who saw he had made a mistake, but still answered somewhat indignantly: "I think she is the most beautiful woman I have ever seen."

To Seymour's chagrin, he knew that Xenia would form one of the "wild-bore's" principal subjects in his next letter to Cairo, where he occupied a position in a bank. The same day as the letter's arrival he knew that the fact that he was traveling with a beautiful girl would be all over the club, and the next day all over Cairo.

He now resolved that he would be first in the field with Eva. He knew that Wild could not post a letter until the ship got to Gibraltar; he, therefore, decided to make a clean breast of it to Eva, and he regretted that he had not had the courage to do so from the first.

He sat down and wrote to Eva at once, through the medium of his diary. Fortunately Eva knew the ways of the East and its womankind.

"There is a woman on board this ship," Seymour wrote, "who is trying to attach herself to me, and I find her a great nuisance."

He could have used even a stronger word to express his position.

"She has got placed at my table," he proceeded, "and I cannot get rid of her. Would you do under the circumstances?"

He added expressions of his irrevocable love and devotion to his affianced wife, and this was perhaps the best part of his letter in Eva's eyes.

But for all that it greatly disturbed him, and he was very glad when they reached the Rock of Gibraltar, and his letter was safe in the post. He had little doubt that the "wild-bore" had also said for Cairo in the same bag.

Xenia had not broken out again into any frenzy on the subject of their immediate marriage, but her attitude towards him remained as before—one of quiet possession—and one evening at dinner he was quite sure Wild had seen her place her hand on his as it rested on the dinner table. Much as he tried to avoid these incidents, they would occur.

But the final trial of his patience came on the night before they reached Southampton. She had followed him up from the dining saloon to the promenade deck, smoking a cigarette.

"To-morrow, Seymour," she said, "we reach Southampton, and then London. Think of what it means! We shall soon be married!"

Seymour halted as they reached the far end of the deck, which was in shadow; he turned to her, speaking in French, as they always did.

"If you are willing, Xenia," he said gently, to avoid exciting her, "we will go straight to Sir Amroth Milvain and consult him."

To his surprise, she agreed at once.

"Yes," she replied, "I do not object to that."

"You know Sir Amroth?" Seymour asked, alarmed at her sudden acquiescence.

"Oh, yes," she answered. "I know Monsieur Milvain well. Everybody knows him in Egypt. He, too, is a great friend of Abdullah. Yes, he will go and see him. And Seymour," she added, "Monsieur Milvain shall decide when we shall be married!"

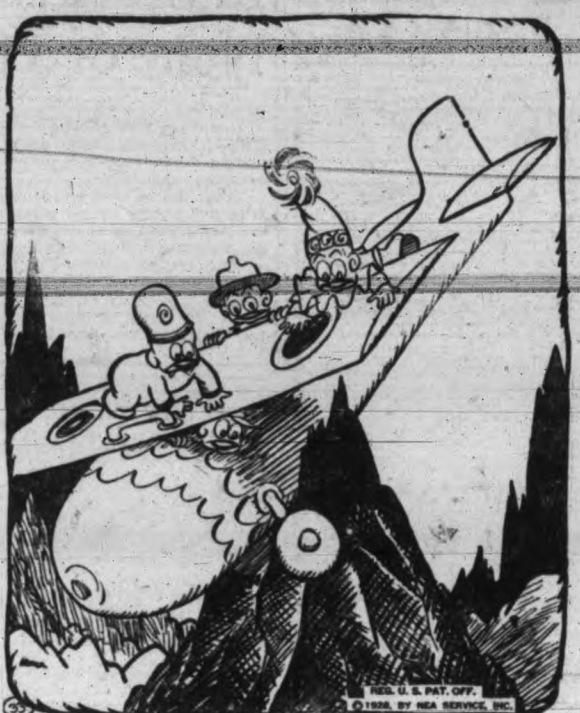

A man who had been leaning over the rail in the shadow, turned and looked at them.

It was the "wild-bore," who understood French as well as they did.

THE TWISTYTAILS

STORY BY MAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

Up in the air the Twists flew upon the plane. The sparrow knew just how to cut right through the wind. He'd done that trick for years. All birds, of course, soon learn with ease just how to ride upon the breeze. Their big wings keep them in the air, and it's their tail that steers.

The sparrow glanced down on the bunch and saw that they were eating lunch. "They're shooting at me," cried Bouty, "I just wish that we could somehow reach the ground. I'll bet our bird is scared to death. Why can he not catch his breath? The crowking of some more shrike shortly made an awful sound."

Then, suddenly, the sparrow cried, "I guess I'll have to end this ride. I'm going to let go of the plane. You won't have far to drop." The poor bird did this very thing, and out for safety he took wing. The plane, with all the Twists, landed on a mountain top.

Twistytail's barber comb. "Now you will soon look pretty again as you used to before you began to forget to comb your fur."

"Will I be very late for school?" asked Tangle.

"Not much, and I'm sure the Lady Mouse Teacher will forgive you when I tell her what happened," spoke Mr. Longears. And he didn't see the Weasel.

So Uncle Wiggily began using the comb on Tangle's fur, but even though it had big teeth far apart the little rabbit's pet was so-mussed-from-not having been smoothed in a long time that she felt much pain from her fur being pulled.

"Oh Daddieums!" cried Tangle. "You hurt me!"

"I know, my dear; I won't hurt you any more than I can help," said the rabbit gentleman kindly. "But your fur must be combed."

"Oh, I'm going to cry again!" sobbed Tangle.

"Go ahead, my dear; cry if you must," said her father. "It will soon be over. I'll hurry!"

"Yes, and I'll hurry too," snickered the Weasel. "I'm going to have two rabbits for breakfast instead of one."

Well, that Bad Chap got ready to jump on Uncle Wiggily and Tangle, but all of a sudden the little rabbit put the fur of my little girl Tangle. They splashed on the paws of the Weasel hiding behind the bushes. And as Tangle's tears fell and splashed on the Weasel's paws they froze fast, for the weather was very cold.

And before the Weasel knew it his paws were frozen tightly to the ground by Tangle's frosty tears and the Bad

Uncle Wiggily hopped into the barber shop where Mr. Twistytail, the fat gentleman pig, shaved the other animals.

"Did you come to have your fur trimmed?" grunted Mr. Twistytail. "If you have, Uncle Wiggily, I would advise you not to. Cold weather is coming on and—"

"Thank you, no. I didn't come in to have my fur trimmed," said the rabbit gentleman. "I want to borrow a comb."

"Oh, are you going into the barber business?" grunted the fat pig with a laugh. "Come in and help me."

"No," said Mr. Longears and he also laughed. "I want the comb to smooth out the fur of my little girl Tangle. You see she was a bad little rabbit girl for a time and never would comb her fur before starting off to school. So this morning, when she hopped off and I met her, I pretended I didn't know her on account of her mussed fur. I made the poor child cry and she has promised never to let her fur get in such shape again. So now I want to straighten it out for her and let her go on to school. May I take a comb?"

"Why, certainly," said the pig barber. "Here is one with big teeth, as that sort of a comb won't pull Tangle's fur as much as would a finer one. Good luck to you."

"Thanks," said Uncle Wiggily, hopping back to where he had left his little bunny child with her tangled fur.

Now while Uncle Wiggily was in the barber shop something was happening outside where Tangle was waiting on the wooden path. The sky weasel came stinking along, hungry for a breakfast of rabbit ears. And when the Weasel saw Tangle standing there he said:

"Oh, ho! Ah, ha!" Then his eyes twinkled and he rubbed his red tongue over his white teeth and whispered: "There is my breakfast! I'll wait until she starts hopping so she can't hear me coming and then I'll jump on her."

For Tangle was standing still, waiting for her Daddieums to return with the comb to smooth out her tangled fur. She knew nothing of the weasel. Tangle had cried a few tears when her father first tried to smooth out her fur and the weather was so cold that the tears froze into little round heads of ice.

"Here we are, my dear!" said Uncle Wiggily as he hopped back with Mr.

Chap couldn't move. He couldn't jump, he couldn't walk, he couldn't crawl, and of course, he couldn't get Uncle Wiggily or Tangle. So it was a good thing Tangle cried though it wasn't until they were ready to go on to school that they saw the frozen fast Weasel behind the bushes.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny gentleman as he saw the Bad Chap. "You are caught in a frosty trap of Tangle's tears." Then he gave the comb back to Mr. Twistytail and with her fur nicely combed Tangle hopped on to school and the Lady Mouse Teacher forgave her for being late. After that Tangle's fur was never snarled.

And if the keynote doesn't squeeze the key so tightly that the door must slam to make it loose, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the crow's nest.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

BRUSH YOUR TEETH!

One Mother Says: I got so tired of reminding Billie and Jimmy to wash their teeth in the morning and evening that I had to think of some way to help them. I cut out some colored pictures of children washing their teeth and about three times a week I put one of these pictures over the wash bowl. When they went there to wash their faces the picture was a constant reminder to me. I also used a little chart with the days of the week in it, and every time they brushed their teeth they would mark off the proper day. I checked their charts every Saturday and if every day was marked I gave them some little surprise treat.

Orange State Party Declares Position

Wynberg, Orange Free State, Oct. 18.—The Nationalist Congress of the Orange Free States yesterday adopted the amendment to Article 4 of the Nationalist Party's constitution proposed by the Federal council of the party. The amendment eliminates the former declaration for an independent South African republic separated from the British Empire, and substitutes for it the following:

"The Nationalist Party accepts the declaration of the Imperial Conference at its session of 1926 and for the future aims at maintaining the sovereign independence acknowledged by the constitution, and exercising the functions of state on its own authority. In accordance with this the Nationalist Party declares itself strongly opposed to any doctrine, activity or policy which in any way tends to infringe our liberties, and undertakes to oppose such doctrines, activities or policy with all authorized weapons."

RENEE ADOREE IN STORY OF ALASKA AT THE DOMINION

Rex Beach never wrote a more romantic, exciting novel of Alaska in gold-rush days than "The Michigan Kid," the film version of which opens at the Dominion Theatre to-day, with Conrad Nagel and Renee Adoree co-starring.

Universal has turned out a thrilling photoplay from the story set in the colorful times of gambling houses, dance halls and rough men, when the gold fever gripped the country. Nagel enacts the role of a famed gambler, and Miss Adoree of a girl from the States. The story is essentially a romance.

"The Michigan Kid" is a special, made at great expense, with an extensive location trip and tremendous sets. Many weeks were spent in the forests near Sacramento, California, where the pine trees are the same species as found in Alaska. Here the vast panorama of California's mountain splendor was captured on the screen at a time of year when the lofty peaks were snow-capped.

The film is a combination of the highest cinematic beauty and the most gripping of the most powerful drama of Northern wilderness.

The company spent several weeks

IRENE RICH AND CLIVE BROOK IN "PERFECT CRIME"

Seldom is a director given an opportunity to stake his reputation on the filming of a story which calls for such finished technique as "The Perfect Crime." FBO's stirring mystery drama playing at the Capitol Theatre to-day, Friday and Saturday.

The director's task in filming "The Perfect Crime," which features Clive Brook and Irene Rich, was not merely one of providing sufficient action on do not constitute the "perfect crime" after all, because he has failed to make provision for the "human element"—the reaction of his own conscience and the wholesome influence of the woman he loves—provides a dramatic climax of tremendous power. On the stage at the Capitol this week the management presents the Clark Sisters, harmony singers; Navin and Alexander, guitar and banjo artists, and Jud Griffith, who dances. Al Prescott and his stage band along with Harold Bechtel, the singing Master of Ceremonies, completes the bill.

Movie Producers Ask Free Field

Toronto, Oct. 18.—The annual convention of the motion picture owners of America here yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution "utterly and earnestly condemning attempts to harass by Governmental interference, the production, distribution or exhibition of motion pictures."

The resolution said that motion pictures, "as a major medium of expression, should be kept free from political manipulation."

FRED THOMPSON IN "THE SUNSET LEGION" NOW AT COLUMBIA

Again Fred Thomson has demonstrated his ability to literally walk away with the honors in the depiction of Western roles, both past and present. His latest starring vehicle, for Paramount, entitled, "The Sunset Legion," opened at the Columbia Theatre to-day.

There is something about Fred Thomson and his pictures which serves to elevate him above all others who portray this type of role. His stories, for one thing, always include a novel and a thrilling "murder" in order to satisfy his own belief that he can outwit the law. His discovery that the actions dictated by his warped brain the screen to sustain interest. It was necessary, as well, to convey to the audience the mental processes of the various characters, whose actions would mean nothing unless the motives prompting their various movements were intelligently presented.

The story primarily is a character study of Dr. Benson, master mind among crime sleuths. This man, played by Brook, conceives and executes a "barring" murder in order to satisfy his own belief that he can outwit the law. His discovery that the actions dictated by his warped brain
